FOR THE UPBUILDING OF CAMERON AND MILAM COUNTY.

CAMERON, MILAM COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JANUARY 8, 1920

NUMBER 36

SCHOOL STANDARD MODEL FOR STATE GRADING

Department of Education Will Use Cameron Educational System to Perfect Plan For Standards In All Texas Schools.

The Cameron Public School has been designated as one of the few schools in the State to form a basis for perfecting a graded standard for the schools of Texas.

There is at present no absolute standard by which to measure ability in grades, and the State University of Texas has accordingly prepared tests in handwriting, spelling, arithmetic, reading and composition for every grade from the beginners to the graduates. From these averages total averages made from the ten test schools will serve as a permanent basis of measurement of graded ability.

These tests are designated, not only to show the general ability of each grade, but also point out to the teacher the weak places in teaching, and will thus assist the instructor in raising the class room standard. Superintendent Kidd has been directing the tests in the Cameron School, and is gratified with the record which the school has made.

The tests in hand writing have been completed and the school's average is well above the tentative average outlined by the University in both quality and speed. In spelling the school average is especially satisfactory. This proves the efficiency of a new method of teaching spelling that was installed throughout the school last year. The results of the arithmetic tests in our school are fair. In the four fundamentals—addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division—the grades were above the tentative average. In reasoning, the school average was fair, but not excellent. The reading and composition tests have yet to be given, but Superintendent Kidd feels sure that the Cameron School will measure well up to the standard of a good school in these subjects. It is a credit to Cameron to have the school selected as one of the ten test schools of the State, and it is very gratifying to know that the Cameron Public School is in first class condition.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR INCOME TAX GIVEN

March 15 Last Day on Which Returns May Legally Reach Internal Revenue Officer.

Austin, Texas, Jan. 7.—The following information relating to an individual's liability in making income tax reports and paying the tax is issued by the Collector of internal revenue, for the District of Texas:

All married persons whose net income during the year 1919 equals or exceeds $2,000.00, and all single persons whose net income equals or exceeds $1,000.00, are required to make an income tax report. If you were married or head of a family on the 31st day of December 1919, you are entitled to an exemption of only $1,000.00. Persons are also entitled to a further credit, whether single, married or at the head of a family, of $200.00 for each person (other than husband or wife) dependent upon and receiving his or her chief support from them during the year, if such person under 18 years of age or is incapable of self support by reason of mental or physical disability.

The normal income tax is at the rate of 4 per cent upon the first $4,000 of the net income in excess of the credits allowed, and 8 per cent upon an excess of that amount. A person receiving a net income in excess of $1,000 is also liable to a surtax of 1 per cent upon income from $5,000 to $6,000; 2 per cent from $6,000 to $8,000; 3 per cent from $8,000 to $10,000, etc.

All amounts received from the sale of crops, dairy products, eggs, fruit, live stock products, live stock whether raised on the farm or not, and all other farm products, and all amounts received for board of persons, board and pasturage of animals, labor of men and teams, hire or use of machinery, and all other earnings arising from farming operations must be reported in the tax return.

These are some of the deductions allowed from the gross income in arriving at the net income: Taxes paid or accrued during the taxable year, except Federal income, war profits, and excess taxes, and taxes assessed against local benefits and of a kind tending to increase the value of the property assessed; interest paid or accrued within the taxable year; losses sustained during the year and not covered by insurance. A reasonable allowance for obsolescence; contributions in excess of 15 per cent of net income to religious, charitable, scientific or educational institutions.

Amounts paid for labor during the year covered by report in land for a crop, cultivating, and marketing of the crop and marketing of the crop seed and fertilizer used;

amounts expended for labor in caring for the live stock; amounts paid for feed during the year covered by report; repairs for farm buildings (not dwelling) fences, farm machinery, etc; cost of farm tools which are used up in the course of a year or so; and the amount paid for the rent of a farm, are classed as necessary expenses and are deductible from the gross income.

These items are not deductible from the gross income: Personal living and family expenses, any amount paid out for buildings or for permanent improvements made to increase the value of the property; amounts expended in restoring property or in making good the exhaustion thereof for which allowance is or has been made.

Income tax returns must be made out and filled with the Collector of Internal Revenue, Austin, Texas, not later than March 15th, 1920, for the income during the year 1919 and the entire amount of the tax may be paid at that time or in four installments; one fourth on March 15th, one fourth on June 15th; one fourth September 15th, and one fourth on December 15th.

Persons who fail to make out income tax returns as provided by law are liable to a fine of not more than $10,000 or imprisonment not to exceed 12 months, or both in addition to other penalties.

WAR LIQUOR ACT CONGRESS UPHELD

Manufacture of Beverages Over One And One-Half Per Cent Prohibited By Decision.

Washington, Jan. 7.—By a margin of one vote the Supreme court today upheld the right of congress to define intoxicating liquors insofar as applied to war-time prohibition.

In a five to four opinion given by Associate Justice Brandeis, the court sustained the constitutionality of the provisions in the Volstead prohibition enforcement act prohibiting the manufacture and sale of beverages containing one-half of one per cent or more of alcohol. Associate Justices Day, Vandevanter, McReynolds and Clarke dissented.

Wets Have Little Hope. Validity of the federal prohibition constitutional amendment and of portions of the Volstead act affecting its enforcement was not involved in the proceedings but the opinion was regarded so sweeping as to leave little hope among the "wet" adherents.

In giving the opinion, the court sustained federal decrees dismissing injunction proceedings to enjoin federal authorities from preventing Jacob Ruppert, a New York brewer, from

INTERURBAN COMMITTEE TO CONFER

President O. A. Ryfle and Engineers to Visit Cameron Today for Conference.

The meeting of the board of directors of the Cameron Commercial Club last Friday night was noted with a full attendance. The announcement that the interurban project would be discussed is given as the reason for the large attendance. However, many other important matters for the building of Cameron on the 1920 program were discussed at length, this being the first meeting of the new year. After the regular routine of business the secretary brought up under the head of unfinished business the matter of the interurban for Cameron, relating that President O. A. Ryfle of the central Texas interurban company had been in communication and wanted to know if the committee appointed recently was ready for a visit from himself and his engineers. The directors meeting was quick to take action in the matter and the old time live spirit that was manifested when this project was first announced was noticeable. The secretary was instructed to phone Mr. Ryfle and tell him the committee was ready any time. A conversation Saturday morning with this gentleman resulted in the arrangement of a conference today (Thursday, Jan. 8). The committee from the Cameron commercial club is composed of 15 of the liveliest business men in the city, men that are town builders and boosters, as follows: Robt. McLane, president commercial club, A. H. Baskin, T. F. Hardy, Oxsheer Smith, A. N. Green, F. C. Mondrik, R. P. Jeter, W. H. Triggs, R. L. Batte, J. T. Parma, C. W. Lawrence, W. W. Chambers, T. S. Henderson, E. A. Flinn, W. G. Gillis. A full committee meeting will be attempted and is arranged for 3 p. m. in the parlors of the Auditorium Hotel.

Another very important matter acted upon by the commercial club directors was the looking after the census enumeration in the city. The matter was discussed and the action was to have hand bills printed sufficient in number to place one in every home calling attention to the coming of the enumerators, telling of the importance of same. A few days before the work is completed another hand bill will be distributed seeking information about those who have failed to be counted. It is the plan of the club to get every inhabitant counted. Headquarters for information about the work for parties who will be missed and do not understand the details has been established at the office of the commercial club secretary and plans are under way to put Cameron on the map with a full census.

Road matters were given consideration at the meeting, the Buckholts road having been inspected only this week by the state and federal highway engineers, County Auditor Giles Avriett made a lengthy report on the matter. He said that bids would be advertised for in a very few days. This is an important piece of road being a connecting highway between the two roads that traverse the state there having been $25,000 state and federal aid allowed for same.

Manufacturing beer containing in excess of one-half of one per cent, but which he alleged was non-intoxicating.

Brewers Cases Dismissed. The "Wets," however, received a brief ray of hope when, shortly afterward Associate Justice Day, in a unanimous opinion, sustained the dismissal of indictments brought under the war-time prohibition act against the Standard Brewery of Baltimore and the American Brewing company of New Orleans for manufacturing 2.75 beer before the court held that congress has the right to determine what is intoxicating beverages, but in view of the fact that the Volstead act had not yet been passed, manufacture of low alcohol beer was permissible under the war-time prohibition act, providing it was not intoxicating.

John Sapp, formerly with Daugherty Motor Company in Cameron, has accepted a position in Hearne, Texas, with the Brazos Valley garage.

CAMERON MAN IS SLAIN BY BANDITS

Early Boles Dead in Tampico Says Telegraphic Message to Brother Here.

Early Boles, former resident of Cameron and for the past five years interested in oil operations at Tampico, Mexico, was killed by Mexican bandits raiding in the vicinity of Tampico Monday, according to telegraphic information received here by his brother, Kirby Boles, a citizen of Cameron. Details are lacking concerning the murder of Mr. Boles by the bandits and the only information so far received in Cameron is the plain telegraphic statement telling of his death and by whom the murder was committed.

Early Boles was for many years a citizen of Milam county. He was 29 years old and left this county five years ago for Tampico where he has since resided. Besides his brother in Cameron, Kirby Boles, he is survived by two brothers, Seth Boles of Nile and Surry Boles of Thorndale, a sister, Mrs. Ross Williams of Nile, and parents who reside at Beaulieu, south of Thorndale.

No word has been received here as to the disposition of the body and it is not known whether it will be brought to Cameron for burial. It is said that the matter has been brought officially to the attention of the Federal Government but nothing as to developments in the case has been received in Cameron.

Recent outrages of a similar nature on American citizens residing in Mexico and the recent kidnapping of Consular Agent Jenkins, recall to mind the threatened international rupture between the United States and Mexico. Those cases are still pending and no definite policy is forthcoming from the Mexican government toward giving the desired protection to American life and property as asked by the United States.

While these outrages have continued for some years in Mexico and many American citizens have been murdered this is the first tragedy to have claimed its toll of life from the citizenship in this immediate section and the matter caused widespread indignation and sincere regret in Cameron and Milam county.

Commissioners' Court.

A special session of the Commissioners Court will convene at Cameron on Thursday, January 8th, for the purpose of considering bids for the erection of a trestle at the Holtzclaw bridge on Little river. Also some road matters pertaining to Jones Prairie road district number fifteen, and other road matters may be considered at that time.

Mr. G. B. Hohenstein of Pauhaska Okla., was here last week looking over prospects in the Cameron-Tracy oil field. Mr. Hohenstein and family may decide to locate in Cameron permanently.

TELEGRAPHERS WILL PARTICIPATE IN SALARY INCREASE

In common with thirty thousand of their fellow employees in other cities, the local employees of the Western Union Telegraph Company who have been six months or more in the service of the company will participate in salary increases totaling over five million dollars a year commencing January 1st. Employees who have been a year or more in the service will receive a 15 per cent increase and those who have been six months but less than a year in the service will receive 10 per cent. Only employees who receive less than $250 a month will participate.

Mrs. G. D. Fisher, manager of the local office state that these increases are in pursuance of an agreement reached some time ago between the management and the Association of Western Union employees. The Western Union is one of the large corporations which engages in the process of collective bargaining with its employees, and this is the latest of several general increases which have been negotiated as a means of offsetting to a certain extent the increased cost of living which has fallen so heavily upon the salaried class.

Nearly Half Million Waiting Expenditure Under Contracts Let For Rural Highways. This Sounds Good.

CAMERON PUBLIC SCHOOL REOPENS MONDAY MORNING

The Cameron Public School reopened Monday morning after a pleasant vacation which began Dec. 23rd. Superintendent and Mrs. L. H. Kidd and our resident teachers spent the holidays in Cameron.

Miss Isla Reid spent Xmas with relatives in Proctor and Dublin.

Miss Cain was with her family in Elgin for the holidays.

Miss Amelia Williams spent part of her Xmas vacation in Austin with Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Smoot, and their little daughter, Jane.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Crawford and Miss Aileen Work were in Dallas during the Xmas holidays.

Miss Bass was with her parents in Yoakum at Christmas time.

Miss Carroll was in Panhandle with her folk for Xmas.

Miss Curtis spent Xmas with her sisters in Houston.

Miss Wilma Hillman spent Xmas with her parents near San Saba.

Prof. and Mrs. F. C. Cameron spent part of the holidays in Montgomery with Mrs. Cameron's parents, and part of the time with Mr. Cameron's with Mrs. Cameron's parents and people in Anson.

Mrs. Bessie Lowe had as guests during the holidays Mrs. Watt Henderson of Ft. Worth and Mrs. S. W. Webb of Plainview. Mrs. Webb will be remembered by her Cameron friends as Miss Hallie Byrd Perkins. Mrs. Lowe's brother, Dr. Lydell, was with her at Christmas time also.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Rev. W. E. Phillips held services at the Episcopal church Sunday afternoon at three-thirty. Mr. Phillips has taken charge of the Cameron church, and in the near future hopes to establish himself here.

Until further notice regular services will be held at half past three. All members of the congregation and interested friends are earnestly urged to be present at these services.

Mr. Prentiss E. Bellinger of Altus, Oklahoma was in Cameron during the Xmas holidays. Mr. Bellinger was a member of the Cameron High School faculty in 1917, and left here to enter the service of his country in the world war. Since his discharge from duty, Mr. Bellinger has held a responsible position with a bank in Altus.

MANY INQUIRE INTO PAPER SHORTAGE

Federal Trade Commission Is Requested to Probe Charges.

Washington, Jan. 7.—The federal trade commission has been asked by Attorney General Palmer to re-open its investigation of the news print manufacturers association, members of which produce a large proportion of the paper used by American newspapers.

The Attorney General's formal request, filed yesterday and made public today, was said to have been actuated by scores of complaints from newspaper publishers, asserting that the agreement in settlement of the anti-trust suits against the manufacturers' association had not been complied with. This agreement primarily provided that the manufacturers observe prices fixed by the trade commission until three months after the war, and that small publishers not be made the victims of preferential treatment.

Question on which Mr. Palmer asked the trade commission to base its investigation and submit a report

One million dollars for good roads in Milam county. That is the sum the progressive citizenship has seen fit to authorize by bond issue in this county for the improvement of the highway system in the rural districts and to connect the county with two national highways.

Of this amount nearly $500,000 is available from recent bond issues in the several precincts. Weather conditions have militated against construction of roads and numerous contracts are being held up until the road crews can get on the roads with their machinery. These funds are held on deposit in the Milam county banks for expenditure in carrying out the contracts entered into by the Commissioners of the precincts that have authorized the bonds.

By virtue of these bonds a complete outlet on the eastern side of the county is made to the Meridian National Highway which is to serve this and other sections of Texas. On the west side of the county a connection is made with the King's Trail another of the designated National Highways. With her internal system of communication by roads well improved and connections made with these two National Highways effected, Milam county is well served with roads. In fact, Milam county will have one of the most complete systems of roads of any county in the State.

County Judge W. G. Gillis says that the bonds in the Milam district to the amount of $150,000 have not yet been sold, only recently having been authorized by the people of the district. In the north portion of the county, Judge Gillis says, $440,000 awaits expenditure from districts 2, 6 and 7, known as Justice Precincts. Some of the older issues of bonds for road improvement are in Precincts No. 1, 3, 4, 5, and 8.

Road construction in Milam county is possible at reduced costs owing to the abundance of native road materials found in various parts of the county. Local gravel beds have been exploited extensively during the past few years and an almost inexhaustible supply of material is found. Along the breaks in the rivers of the county a high quality gravel is found.

The automobile and the motor truck as an auxiliary transportation unit has done much to further the cause of good roads and as the farmer and merchant finds these utilities indispensable the next thought is to build a system of roads on which to operate them.

Motorization in Milam county is keeping pace with the construction of roads. Farmers through Cameron dealers have begun the installation of power machinery on the farm thus improving and making more efficient their methods.

are:

"Whether the manufacturers who signed the settlement agreement have actually produced the daily tonnage of news print paper which they subjected to the terms of the agreement

"Whether the manufacturers have offered that amount of tonnage for sale to the trade.

"How much of the tonnage the manufacturers have sold to the jobbers, dealers and other middlemen and at what prices and whether the so-called middlemen have observed the maximum commissions fixed pursuant to the settlement agreement."

Newspaper publishers throughout the country recently have felt keenly high prices of print paper. Many of the complaints made to the attorney general, it was said, asserted that the manufacturers had not lived up to their agreement, either in the matter of supplies or prices.

The United States district court for the southern district of New York which entered the decree finding the eight members of the newsprint manufacturers two years ago, still retains jurisdiction in the case.

STORIES FOR THE CHILDREN

(By M. A. M.)
THE TEMPLE

The New Year comes and with it the day on which most of us decide to live a better life and build a greater, nobler character and fail because we do not live in close fellowship with Jesus and let His spirit breath thru all our thoughts, words and acts.

We would remember that great truth St. Paul tried so hard to impress on us: "The Body is the Temple of the Soul." For a little while, let us study the history and description of "The Temple" spoken of as Solomon's Temple in the old testament and in the days of Christ as Herod's Temple. About 1500 year B. C. God called the Hebrew nation, numbering perhaps 1,000,000 out of Egypt (the most civilized and cultured country of the world) where they had been for 400 years, trained in the arts of architecture, chemistry, law and medicine) where they had learned to make brick and build immense buildings which lasted for hundreds of years and to beautify them, with engravings, statues and carvings in wood, brass, silver and gold, there they learned to weave flax and wool, linen and silk and prepare furs and do various kinds of beautiful and useful handwork. The Israelites were so useful to the Egyptians God had to afflict them with ten plagues before they let the Israelites leave for the Land of Canaan and then perform a wonderful miracle to prevent the Israelites from being taken back to slavery. After the wonderful crossing of the Red Sea, guided by a pillar of cloud through the days and protected by a pillar of fire through the nights, at length they reached the foot of Mt. Sinai and camped there for about one year with their numerous herds. There God, through Moses, made a covenant with them, saying: "Ye shall be unto me a Kingdom of priests a holy nation." After many signs of glory gave them the Ten Commandments; then called Moses upon the mountain where God gave the Ten Commandments written on stone and a description and pattern of the Tabernacle, each article of its furnishings and also costumes for the priests, stipulating that all the work and materials should be willingly and lovingly given. The Tabernacle contained the Ark of the Covenant where God would manifest himself and talk to the people. Through their years of wanderings and conquests in Canaan the Tabernacle was carried by the Levites until it occupied the chief place in Solomon's Temple, 1000 years B. C. David, the shepherd King, after years of battle in which he extended the Kingdom of Israel until it reached its farthest boundaries and strengthened them and made treaties with neighboring nations and built himself a home. One day while enjoying the pleasures of home, David told Nathan, the prophet, his heart's desire was to build for God to dwell in, using these words: "I dwell in a house of cedar but the Ark

of the Covenant of the Lord remaineth under curtains." Nathan approved; later God sent Nathan to David with this message: "Thou hast shed blood abundantly and made great wars, thou shalt not build a house unto my name." God was so pleased with David's love and great desire that He made David this promise: "Behold a son shall be born to thee, His name shall be Solomon; I will give him rest and peace from all his enemies and I will give peace and quietness unto Israel in his days. He shall build a house for my name." Then through all the years until David had Solomon crowned King of Israel, David delighted to collect materials for the house of God and its furnishings. Shortly before his death David called all the provinces of Israel and the priests and Levites together and charged Solomon to build unto the Lord in these words: "Be strong and fear not, nor be dismayed for the Lord God, even my God, will be with thee. He will not forsake thee until thou hast finished the work for the services of the house of the Lord; behold the priests and Levites will be with thee and there shall be with thee all manner of workmanship from willing, skillful men and the princes of people will be at thy command." After which David urged the princes, priests, Levites and people to assist in the work and then gave his own donations thus: "I have prepared with all my might for the house of God gold for things that are to be made of gold, silver for silver things, brass for brass things, and wood for the wooden things, onyx stones, stones to be set, glittering stones of diverse colors, all manner of precious stones and marble in abundance, and above all, I have prepared for the Holy House 300,000 talents of gold of ophir, 7,000 talents of refined silver to overlay the walls." David's gift in gold was $232,746,000, in silver $20,758,000 besides iron, stone and precious stones in abundance and he gave for the interior of the Temple in gold $2,908,500,000, in silver $1,940,000,000, brass and iron without weight and timber and stone in abundance. David gave the princes, priests, Levites and people an opportunity to donate which they did willingly, rejoicing with great joy. The Temple was completed after seven years of labor of thousands of men modeled after the Tabernacle, situated on Mt. Moriah, where Abraham offered Israel and formed part of the eastern boundary of Jerusalem. The materials were immense white stones 40x60 feet, pillars of Parian marble 40 feet in length, woodwork of cedar fir and sandal wood exquisitely carved and vast quantities of gold, silver and brass, in ceiling the Holy of Holies 30 tons of gold was used. Built in form of a quadrangle, facing the rising sun, surrounded by a quadrangle wall containing seven gates; inside of wall three quadrangle courts rising one above the other, separated by partition and encircled by marble cloisters the outer court for Gentiles above this, entered through nine gates 60 feet high covered with gold and silver was the court of Israel only Jews permitted within; Eastern half, woman's court, on a higher terrace, court of priests; Temple proper 120 feet long on higher level of Western end of priests' court; opposite the brazen altar a porch 180 feet high covered with gold and precious stones and behind it the holy place opening through the great veil into the Holy of Holies. Furniture lavish beyond description. More than 1,000,000 vessels of gold and silver; more than 2,000,000 costly sacerdotal robes in store. When finished, 1,000 B. C., Solomon dedicated the Temple, brought the Ark of the Covenant with great sacrifices and rejoicing and placed in the most Holy place and the glory of the Lord filled the place. After 400 years, the people drifted into idolatry and God let Nebuchadnezzar destroy the Temple and take the nobles of the people into captivity. Years later Cyrus gave them permission to return to Judah and rebuild the Temple on the same foundations, which was done under the leadership of Zerubbabel, but far inferior to Solomon's and lacked its chief glory, the Ark of the Covenant which had been destroyed a few years before Christ. Herod the Great greatly enlarged and enriched the Temple and beautified and extended its grounds until they contained 20 acres and gave his own name to it. Herod's Temple was destroyed by the Romans under Titus A. D. 70 and a Mohammedan temple (the Mosque of Omar) has been standing on its site for 12,000 years. Part of the original foundation of Solomon's Temple still remains.

Remember, 'twas willing, loving service that pleased our Heavenly Father in the olden times and in our present time. Our next story will please the little folks more.

The shaded lamp throws softest beams,
And as I watch her face it seems
That we have never been apart
And that the weary months have been
But melancholy dreams.

The days that passed with leaden feet
Are filled for me with fancies sweet.
Verdun is mine in memory,
And matchless comrades may I now
In recollection greet.

Kindly they treated me—the years
That brought to her so many tears.
So many hours of restless care,
So many days and weeks and months
Of overwhelming fears.

She reads to me, the light turned low,
Just as before, her hair aglow
With ruddy fire. But now
There's a glint of silver there that once
I did not know—

A few tired lines that were not there,
A few strands of greying hair;
Two years of life are lost to her—
Two golden years of youth. It seems
Not altogether fair.

So many people make the dreadful mistake of never stopping to enjoy life until it is too late. A very fortunate few have acquired the knack of thoroughly enjoying each day as it comes, of being interested in the people they meet and of finding dozens of amusing incidents every day. These are the people who never grow old. But most of us lack the ability to feel interested sufficiently in our fellow-beings to gain this trait. A stranger is a stranger like dozens of other strangers to us; a clerk is a clerk; school children are school children. We plod along each day doing the things we did the day before, seeing the same people and thinking that everything is the same. It behooves such people to completely change their surroundings once in a while so that they really may see entirely new objects and people, and get their minds out of that deadly groove.—Ex

LEMONS WHITEN AND BEAUTIFY THE SKIN

Make This Beauty Lotion Cleaply For Your Face, Neck, Arms and Hands.

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quarter pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, whitener and beautifier.

METAL MINING IN TEXAS IN 1919

According to Charles W. Henderson, of the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, the Presidio mine, at Shafter, Texas, was in continuous operation during the year 1919. Small shipments of copper, lead and zinc ores were made from the Van Horn and Sierra Blanca districts. The production for the State for the year was 540,000 ounces of silver and nominal quantities of gold, lead, copper and zinc.

A PLEASING HARBINGER

A few days ago a news dispatch from Germany told of the first big locomotive being turned out by the Krupp works—a great steel plant which heretofore has restricted its activities to the manufacture of guns and implements of war.

This is a very modern substitute for the process of beating the sword into plowshare, and it is one that will be good for the world as well as for Germany. The giant locomotive was driven out of the shop by one of the Krupp descendants and was decorated with laurel leaves in token of the more peaceful mission of the mighty German plant.

It is a pleasing augury—this substitution of steam engines for 16-inch howitzers and long range guns. Managers of the plant hope to be able to turn out 300 locomotives a year and in their work they will have the good wishes of the whole world. Perhaps the Germans are turning the works of war to the industries of peace, but if they are not they will do so before long when more factories quit making guns and begin the manufacture of machinery more essential to the very life of a nation.

FOSTER'S WEEKLY
WEATHER BUREAU

Warm waves will reach Vancouver about January 10, 16 and 22 and temperatures will rise on all the Pacific slope. They will cross crest of Rockies by close of Jan. 11, 17 and 23; plains sections 12, 18 and 24; meridian 90, great lakes, middle Gulf States and Ohio-Tennessee valleys 13, 19 and 25; eastern sections 14, 20 and 26, reaching vicinity of Newfoundland about Jan. 15, 21 and 27. Storm waves will follow about one day behind warm waves, cool waves about one day behind storm waves.

These disturbances will dominate the weather of North America from near Jan. 10 to near Jan. 27. Storm forces will increase about or soon after Jan. 19 and by Jan. 15 the storms will be well developed and of greater intensity or force than usual. The week centering on Jan. 18 will bring greatest storms, most snow or rain and greatest extremes in temperatures of all the week of January. Near Jan. 13 a high temperature wave will cross meridian 90 and a cold wave near Jan. 22.

The other weeks of January will bring moderate weather. Precipitation of the month will be short about the Gulf of Mexico and on the Pacific slope and from about to above normal in other sections. Indications are favorable to good crop weather for Winter grain during this month; also favorable to truck farming in far southern latitudes.

We are now in a new 165-day crop-weather period that will continue to end of May. Many new readers of my forecasts do not fully understand and I must repeat some of my explanations. Whoever does not understand meridian 90 can not get best results from my forecasts. Foster's Weather Map, free to subscribers of this paper, will be sent on receipt of 1-cent stamp, giving full explanations of meridian 90, crest of Rockies, the nine crop weather sections that cover the States and Canada; Vancouver, where the storm first come into telegraphic sight, the cotton sections, grain sections, Pacific slope, gaps in the Rockies where the railroads run thru them and where moist atmosphere comes thru the Rockies' crest. Always address W. T. Foster, 1625 1/2 North Capitol street, Washington, D. C.

I try to forecast the eastward drift

of the storms and the dates on which they will be most severe, where the warm waves, cool waves, storm waves will be on certain dates. I can not mention every potato patch on the continent but all readers who give a little thought can understand when I expect each weather feature, as it moves eastward to reach their localities.

These forecasts are not perfect, never will be, but they are valuable and I challenge the weather guessers to a test of their guesses against my forecasts. If my forecasts are more valuable than their guesses then my work is worth many times more than it costs.

I am glad to receive questions and suggestions from subscribers to this paper. I want them to become members of the American Meteorological Society in order that they may have better opportunities to study weather questions and bring those questions before their citizens' organizations of which every reader of my work, men and women, old and young, should become members. One dollar a year will pay for membership in the American Meteorological Society, including the Monthly Meteorological Bulletin one year. I particularly request that all my readers assist in extending the circulation of the newspapers that publish my work. You can assist yourselves, each other and the publishers of this paper by following above suggestions.

Says Vice-President Marshall, writing in Leslie's of the "great middle class in America:" "They constitute the backbone of the republic. They do not want to form themselves in an organization, but they are rapidly coming together, and it will not be long, unless the plain truth is seen and acted upon in business and in legislation, until they, too, will be hammering at the doors of congress, saying: 'Wo, too, have some rights in this republic for which we have lived and labored and which we love.'"

There was an oppressive silence in the parlor. At last the desperate young lady broke out:

"George, why don't you propose?"

"Somehow, somehow, I can't bring myself to do it, Myrtle," blurted the young man.

"It's only a short sentence, George."

"It's a sentence for life."

In a South Carolina county seat a prominent merchant suffered for years with eczema. Money was not a consideration if he could only be relieved from the terrible itching, burning, and irritation. He scratched his back at nights until it bled, but the soreness only became worse. He visited Western Springs, and consulted various physicians, but never found a permanent cure until a friend brought Zemerine to his notice. He tried this great treatment, and now sings its praises highly. Zemerine is a wonderful treatment for diseased skin, especially eczema, tetter, rash, itch, and similar disorders. It is sold upon the fairest basis imaginable—your money will be returned if it does not help you after a fair trial. If you can't get Zemerine at your drug-gist send $1 or 50 cents to the Zemerine Chemical Company, Orangeburg, S. C., and a jar will be sent you direct. Adv.-tf

DECREASE IN OUTPUT OF GOLD IN SOUTH DAKOTA 1919

Preliminary estimates, made by Charles W. Henderson of the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, indicate that gold mines in South Dakota produced $5,391,000 in 1919 as compared with $6,565,337 in 1918 and 144,000 ounces of silver as compared with 159,202 ounces in 1918. The ores shipped to smelters contained only nominal quantities of lead and copper.

At the end of 1918 the Homestake mines and mills were operated at only 77 per cent capacity. Shortage of labor continued during the year 1919, but production began to increase in April. Production continued steadily until September 25, when a fire was discovered on the 800-foot level. Later this fire reached the 700-foot level, and it was found necessary to flood the mine to the 600-foot level.

While the mine was flooded—during October and November—the operations at the mines and mill were necessarily curtailed, but they were resumed December 1. The Mogul mill was closed during the later part of the year, and the Trojan mill was the only large operators in 1919.

No Worms in a Healthy Child
All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

What It Takes To Make Real Cakes

It's not so awful 'tickler,
The kind o' cakes I eat;
With Dunbar's Syrup let them come—
Of buckwheat, corn or wheat!
—DOLLY DUNBAR

No mistaking the answer. Plenty of DUNBAR'S KING KOMUS SYRUP on top and "tricklin'" down the sides. It's the real part of cakes, waffles, hot biscuits—this rich, mellow syrup with the delightful fresh cane flavor.

Its goodness begins with soil and climate where Nature grows the finest Ribbon cane. Boiled to that right degree so that you get its full delicious sweetness.

Always have DUNBAR'S KING KOMUS SYRUP on the table. Wholesome—nourishing—an economical, strength-building food. Made by a process that demands, above all, purity and cleanliness.

Dunbar's
King Komus Syrup

Dunbar's Syrups are packed under several colored checkered labels. All are guaranteed highest quality.

After January first the white and blue KING KOMUS label will be changed to checkered label as shown below.

Life
Was a Misery

Mrs. F. M. Jones, of Palmer, Okla., writes:
"From the time I entered into womanhood . . . I looked with dread from one month to the next. I suffered with my back and bearing-down pain, until life to me was a misery. I would think I could not endure the pain any longer, and I gradually got worse. . . Nothing seemed to help me until, one day, . . . I decided to

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"I took four bottles," Mrs. Jones goes on to say, "and was not only greatly relieved, but can truthfully say that I have not a pain. . .

"It has now been two years since I took Cardui, and I am still in good health. . . I would advise any woman or girl to use Cardui who is a sufferer from any female trouble."

If you suffer pain caused from womanly trouble, or if you feel the need of a good strengthening tonic to build up your run-down system, take the advice of Mrs. Jones. Try Cardui. It helped her. We believe it will help you.

JEFFERSON B. WHITE, Local Mgr.

PUBLISHER'S NOTICE

Beginning with this issue of the Herald Jefferson B. White, formerly city editor of the San Antonio Daily Express and a newspaper man of wide experience, assumes the local management of this paper and becomes interested in the Terrell Publishing Company. Mr. White will make Cameron his home and intends devoting his entire time and attention to the publication of a newspaper in keeping with the rapidly developing town and country.

The Terrell Publishing Company is to be congratulated upon its having secured the services of so able a man as Mr. White, the success he has attained in the daily newspaper field and his experience in the work at towns other than San Antonio having fitted him especially to give Cameron and Milam county a good, constructive paper.

Mr. White will move his family to Cameron within a short time and will become a permanent citizen of Milam county.

The management would ask patrons of the Herald to co-operate with Mr.
White in his work, assuring them that it will be appreciated in the highest sense.

Respectfully,
THE TERRELL PUBLISHING CO.

PUT DOWN THE REDS

Much of the social and industrial unrest over America today is due to the lack of proper restrictions upon immigration. Daily there is being poured out at the great seaboard of America a flood of human beings, who, by the very nature of the Old World standards of civilization, religion and politics, have no conception of what America is like. These peoples, coming as they are by thousands, bring their traditions and their ideals to set up living in free and liberal America.

The radical elements in America are not by any means wholly the products of free America. The come from the hot beds of anarchy and lands of oppression where proud, imperious monarchs crush out the freedom that is the right of every man.
Thus ground down in unwilling servitude they are usually adverse to anything that smacks of government and take their advent into America as a normal cue to revolt. Events of the past three years show that their ideals are constantly clashing with the ideals for which America stands.

It has been a long time since there was any considerable agitation over the once talked of literacy test. It is not America to deny citizenship to any who come to our shores but it has become increasingly necessary to apply some methods by which these peoples may be standardized to the ideals of this government. Americanization holds within its possibilities much that will eradicate bolshevism and radicalism in this country. Immigrants must know that America will not for a minute stand for this sort of agitation; that whoever adopts this as their native land must conform to the ideals for which we stand as a nation.

The alarming increase in radicalism over America has caused the Attorney General to make a special appeal to Congress for speed in the passage of certain legislation now pending which will enable the Department of Justice to deal with these elements, that are not only disturbing the industrial and economic life of America but threatening the foundations of the government and our institutions.

Union Labor has felt the teeth of the radical to its sorrow. The radical, more than any one element, has caused the difficulties in which labor has become involved during the recent strikes and industrial war, and now efforts are being made to rid the ranks of labor of these undesirable.
They are not wanted anywhere.

The late world war was fought out on the lines of freedom and the victory of Democracy was meant to include and must ever mean to include the Red who would destroy even the functions of free and liberal government. What was necessary to enforce respect for American institutions during the war still remains a paramount duty which every loyal citizen owes to himself and country. Everything that is America must survive the wreck of war for to fail would mean world disaster.

What is the population of the city Cameron? This is a question about which is correlated a good deal of popular interest at this time as the process of enumeration swings into form. Like all other cities of the state having the many advantages which attract peoples, the growth and development of Cameron has been rapid if not phenomenal since the last census was taken in 1910.

Many estimates are being made by citizens and business men of Cameron who have resided here for many years and are in close touch with the trend of affairs. A number of estimates place the population at 7000, while more conservative figures place
the population at 6000. Confidence is expressed on every hand that when the enumeration is complete the population will be near if not above the conservative estimate of 6000. In the meantime Cameron people are waiting with anxiety the results which will be closed by the enumeration. Considerable progress has been made by the corps of enumerators who have for several days been assiduously attacking the problem.

One of the principle causes for the growth and development of Cameron during the past few years is the splendid school advantages offered.
Hundreds of people who have heretofore resided in the rural districts are now comfortably located in the city of Cameron where their families can take advantage of the schools. The citizenship of Cameron is substantial and is becoming increasingly so with the settlement here of hundreds of people from the rural districts. The population of Cameron is not without its quota of people who came from the larger cities, finding in this center many desirable advantages and opportunities which are not afforded by residence in the cities.

The many natural resources of Cameron and surrounding territory within easy radius of the county seat is responsible for the big increase as much as any other one source. Located in the center of Texas Milam County offers agricultural advantages not to be had in any other county in the state. There is a noticeable atmosphere of prosperity in Cameron and Milam county not true of many other sections, especially in the southwest where the recent gulf coast storm swept away the crops of the farmers. Wet weather conditions prevented the harvesting of much of the production in Milam county, the yield was larger than in most sections and the loss is less harmful. Feed crops are better than for many years and the farmers have resources on which to begin the new year.

All of these benefits have to do with the big increase of the population of Cameron and Milam county and the general comment on the process of enumeration shows a decided interest in the results.

When the 1920 census reports are announced it is likely that the figures will prove disappointing to more than one town booster and cause some to revise their literature. However, the enumerators will disclose a most wonderful growth in every city and hamlet in Texas, this town not excepted.

"Pershing for President" must be taken more seriously, it has been announced by the Washington politicians. History shows that he was considered in a serious light by the Germans far back as '17.

Germany's mark of appreciation has degenerated into a mark of depreciation the world over, while the English pound has seemed to have lost some of its value.

The Mexican situation reminds one of a rain barrel full of wiggletails;
the troublesome elements coming to the surface mostly when nobody is looking on.

The statement that railway earning for November were the lowest in years suggests the thought that the pay was entirely in keeping with the service rendered.

While it may be said that the human body is like a great motor there-seems to be a difference when it comes to operating it on wood alcohol.

"Reds" first became unpopular with the banker in this country, but the entire Nation is now after the radical's scalp.

Mexico's declaration that "Texas is wicked" recalls the Bible story about who shall cast the first stone.

LITTLE AND MUCH

It matters little where I was born,
If my parents were rich or poor;
Whether they shrank from the world's cold scorn,
Or walked in the pride of wealth secure.

But whether I live an honest man,
And hold by integrity firm in my clutch,
I tell you, my brother, plain as I am,
It matters much.

It matters little how long I stay
In a world of sorrow, sin and care;
Whether in youth I am called away,
Or live till my bones and head are bare.

But whether I do the best that I can
To soften the weight of adversity's touch
On the faded cheek of my fellow man,
It matters much.

WHY PAY YOUR POLL TAX?

BECAUSE, if you do, you can vote in the next primary for Presidential Electors, all other State officials, and all county officials. The primary is the nomination and more important than the election proper.

BECAUSE, our opponents state that they have determined to see that a legislature is elected that will repeal the primary suffrage law. Your poll tax receipt will enable you to help safeguard this law.

BECAUSE, thirty-six States will most probably ratify the Federal Suffrage Amendment before election time, and you will then be able to vote in the election proper, as well as on all other matters which are decided by popular choice, if your poll tax is paid.

BECAUSE, our opponents have op-only asserted that they will see to it that a legislature is elected that will rescind ratification of the Federal Suffrage Amendment. Your poll tax will enable you to prevent this.

BECAUSE, our opponents are saying that women are not paying poll taxes because they do not want the ballot. Ferguson's Forum asserts in bold faced type that the women of Texas do not want the ballot. Your poll tax receipt disproves these assertions.

BECAUSE, no reform is safe simply because a law has once been passed establishing it. We must be always prepared to put good men into office and keep bad ones out. Without your poll tax receipt you have no voice in any election.

BECAUSE, $1.00 of your poll tax money goes to support the schools.
The best teachers are leaving the schools because of poor pay. Your poll tax money will help to keep good teachers in the schools.

BECAUSE, every conscientious, forward-looking woman wants to bear her share of the responsibilities for the kind of government we live under.
The kind of men who are put into office, the kind of social and industrial conditions that exist in her state county and city, the kind of schools the children are educated in.

DODSON WOULD STOP
SALE OF CALOMEL

Says Calomel is Mercury and Acts Like Dynamite on Your Liver.

Dodson is making a hard fight against calomel in the South. Every druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason, Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.
"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist. A large bottle costs but a few cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow
you will feel weak, sick and nauseated.
Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.

OAKDALE NEWS

Our young people continue to get married. On Christmas day Miss Annie O'Neal and Roy L. Hawbaker of Weatherford, were quietly married after dinner. They had just a few friends to witness the occasion. Mr.
O'Neal had intended to have rather a big affair of it, but the weather was so bad that they thought they might have to go to a preacher, but they succeeded in getting Brother Hart out there and a cousin, who lived very close. I understand Mr.
Hawbaker will go back to his work in Weatherford and she will finish her school at Prospect.

We had another marriage on Monday evening before. Mr. Thomas Batey and Miss Day has been going to school at Cameron for several years so we have more than one bride and groom with us. There has been four or five couples to be married in our part of the community this fall.

Miss Johnnie Hensley gave up her school at Hoyte and went to Houston before the Christmas holidays. She perhaps will work in Houston, where her mother and two sisters are.

Berry Barnes came home week before last from out West where he had been picking cotton. They have rented land from Lee Batte and will move by the first.

Mrs. J. B. Ashenbeck, son and grandson, Fred, spent the day Sunday at Hoyte with the Nicholson family.
They tell me they had an excellent dinner.

Miss Alice Wimberley and Hugh, both, have gone back to their work after spending Xmas with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Wimberley.

Miss Alda Batey is home from her school at Meeks. She was to have two weeks vacation.

Mrs. Garner had as guests Xmas her daughter and family, Mrs. John Hairston of Milano.

John Hause and family of Cameron, came out Sunday evening to see his father, Sid.

Eugen Hause and family went Sunday morning to Mrs. Hause's parents,
Mr. and Mrs. Springer at Gause.

Mr. Fred Ashenbeck returned home after spending a week with his relatives here, and Mr. Arnold Ashenbeck came in Friday night to see home folks. There was a part of the family that went to Rosebud to visit the Beckhusen family.

Mr. Marshal Garner went to Milano
Monday.

Mr. Crawford and family went to Marlow to visit home folks Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Clydt Hensley have a sick baby at present.

Mr. Lee Batey went to Cameron this morning on business.

Our community would be busy loading cord wood if they could get empty cars put here for them, but it looks like there are no cars they can have.

FORD EMPLOYEES ATTEND SCHOOL

Four Story School Building Used Entirely for Americanization and Vocational Studies.

The enrollment of the Ford Motor company's Americanization and Vocational School in Detroit has passed the 3,000 mark. There are four courses available to Ford men; the English Course, Trade School, Service Course and Toolmakers School. A four-story 30 room building is occupied almost entirely by the educational activities of the Ford Motor company, which teaches English to its Foreign-born employees, which teaches its service men the proper method of repairing the Ford Car, that makes toolmakers out of the workmen who show their desire to advance and takes boys under sixteen whose parents can no longer send them to school and gives them a combination of general schooling and toolmaking or other trade for which the boy shows a liking. This latter part of the school is known as the Henry Ford Trade School and is regularly incorporated under the Michigan laws as a private school.

On entering this school the boys are granted an annual scholarship of four hundred dollars which is paid them in bi-monthly installments and helps to support them while learning a trade. Provision is also made for increasing this scholarship as the boys progress and attain higher marks in class room work and shop practice.

Besides the four general courses are a number of special courses, for foremen, for men whose work requires their having a knowledge of metals and a teachers training school. All of the teachers in the Ford school are Ford men—men who because of some especial fitness or because of their ability coupled with an understanding of the "Help the Other Fellow" spirit have been called to the work of teaching other Ford men. In all there are seventy-five teachers in the Ford school which is more than the ordinary high school employs.

It must not be inferred that those men who are learning trades do all of their learning in the school. They do not. Periodically so many times a week they attend the classes to learn the theory but the experience they gain from actual work in the factory. Practice and theory proceed together and all of the time the students, be they men or boys, are working on actual parts for Ford Machinery or the Ford Car, and they are being paid the regular wage.

Adjoining the school yard is the Ford athletic field where there are sixteen tennis courts, baseball fields, a skating pond, football grounds, together with considerable gymnasium apparatus.

The Ford system of Americanization has many times received the commendation of prominent educators for its practicability and effective results.

"Where are you going?" asked the returned hero's mother, as he strode toward the door, a vicious look on his face.

"To find the man who sent me this letter suggesting that I take a course in physical culture," was the savage response as the door slammed.

The captain was inspecting a bunch of uniforms which he had ordered marked with the owners' names. Finally he found one upon which none was visible.

"What's the matter here?" he demanded. "Your name seems to be obliterated."

Colonel R. G. Cholmeley-Jones director of the War Risk Insurance Bureau, upon a recent visit to wounded Yanks recuperating in the Walter Reed Hospital at Washington, poked fun at himself and his department in a way that elicited a good laugh from the Bureau's clients present.

"Not long ago," said the Colonel, "upon arriving at my desk one morning, I found in my mail a letter addressed to 'The Bonehead Department, Wahsington, D. C.' More amused than affronted that the postal authorities should have selected my bureau as the proper addressee in this case, I tore open the envelope. Somewhat, I confess, to my astonishment, the letter within read: 'I have made a bet that this letter will reach the proper department of the Government unopened, the War Risk Insurance Bureau.'"

Honors of War.

An artillery outfit was moving from its training camp to take up a position nearer the front. The brand new lieutenant, who had been given charge of the horses, was experiencing much worryment, especially as the colonel had very strongly emphasized the importance of giving the animals every care.

On the trip, which was long and racking in the "hommes et chevaux," one of the horses died, despite the efforts of the veterinarian.

Arriving at its destination the young lieutenant promptly reported to the C. O.

"Sir," he said somewhat nervously, "one of the horses died."

"Well, what did you do with him?"

"Sir, I brought him along on a flat car."

"What!" bellowed the colonel. "You brought a dead horse a thousand kilometers across France to the battle front? Going to give him a military funeral, I presume?"

Suspicious.

Going over on the Aquitania rather more than a year ago was a negro engineer regiment. Also on board were several thousand white troops of the Eighty-fourth Division and a number of unassigned officers.

In the assignment of stations for boat drill most of the casual officers got rafts up on the boat deck. Just next to them were the colored boys, who had drawn life boats.

At the first drill every man was told just where he was to go whenever the alarm sounded. The next day at drill a big black engineer was found standing by one of the rafts even before any of the officers reached it. He was ordered to go to his own place at the next boat. He moved over to the boat and looked it over very carefully.

At the next drill he was again found standing by the officers' raft, and the lieutenant in charge proceeded to call him down for having gone again to the wrong place. When he had finished the soldier looked at the boat, at the colored enlisted men standing by it, then at the raft and its attending officers, and finally exploded:

"Say, boss, what's de matter wid dat old boat, anyhow?"

The Right Dope

The Army Slum architect has been the victim of many a caustic word, but the following advertisement, taken from a Western paper is the most unkind cut of all:

"Wanted—Five blacksmiths and three plumbers. Ex-Army cooks especially wanted."

The Sovereign Remedy

At a trading camp in Georgia, a recruit of two weeks' experience was on his first trick of guard. His part was a water tank. His orders were to call the corporal of the guard if the tank should overflow.

All was quiet until one a. m. when the camp was aroused by a shrill call: "Corporal of the guard—Number Six—bring a cork."

Legal Protection Needed.

The lawyer was just out of O. D. after his return from France when he was met upon the street by a former colored client.

"Lawdy, boss," the latter ejaculated. "Ah shore am glad to see yo' back. Suttin'ly did miss yo' when yo' was gone at de war. Las' winter Ah done miss yo' powerful bad. Done brought me a stove fo' ten dollars, and long comes ole constabule an' makes me pay fo' it."

What's in A Number

The Aero Squadron, preparatory to the start for the front, was being initiated again into the mysteries of close order drill. While most of the men knew every nut, bolt and square inch of canvas on the planes, they were more than hazy about the forgotten detail of their apprenticeship days in the Army.

"Squads right!" bellowed the C. O. Themajority of the squadron managed to get there somehow or other, but No. 3, rear rank, fourth squad, was totally lost. He maneuvered aimlessly about the field for a time, trying to find his place, and finally walked into the arms of the captain.

"Here, you! Where do you belong? What's your number?"

The buck snapped out of his trance. "No. 284526, sir," he answered.

WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW

Prepared For The Herald By The First National Bank in St. Louis, Mo.

The value of crops grown in the United States in 1919 was nearly three times more than the average annual value in the fifty years preceding the war, Secretary of Agriculture Houston announces. On the basis of prices that have recently prevailed, he says, the total value of this year's crop of all kinds is estimated at $15,873,000,000, compared with $14,222,000,000 in 1918, and $13,479,000,000 in 1917. The average annual value of crops in the period from 1910 to 1914 was $5,829,000,000.

These values, Secretary Houston explains, represent gross production and not net gains to the producers. The value of livestock on the farms in 1919 was $8,830,000,000, which was $546,000,000 greater than for 1918, $1,094,000,000 greater than for 1917 and $3,512,000,000 above that for 1914.

Forecasts on meat production in the United States for 1919, the Secretary says, indicate that the record figure of last year—20,250,000,000 pounds—will be exceeded. This year's total is expected to be 21,000,000,000 pounds, of which pork will represent 12,900,000 pounds.

If it's in The Herald, it is news.

TANGLEWOOD MAN DIES

John Stence of Tanglewood died in Cameron early Wednesday morning following an operation which had confined him in a local hospital for several weeks. Mr. Stence was 20 years old and was born and reared in the Tanglewood section.

Mr. Stence was brought to Cameron about two months ago where he was placed under the care of physicians. The original operation was for appendicitis. The body was taken in charge of Billie Marak, embalmer, Wednesday and prepared for shipment to the home of Tanglewood. The funeral was held there Thursday.

MRS. JESSIE SMITH DIES

Mrs. Jessie Smith, wife of C. C. Smith of Cameron, died at Carlsbad, Texas, Sunday morning following an illness of several months. Word of the death of Mrs. Smith was received in Cameron Sunday. She had gone to Carlsbad for her health only a few days before her death.

The body was received here Monday morning and taken to the home where funeral services were held. Interment was made in the Oakhill cemetery Monday afternoon, Rev. H. R. MacFadyen, pastor of the Presbyterian church, conducting the services.

Mrs. Smith is survived by her husband, C. C. Smith and four children. Her death is mourned by a host of friends and relatives in Cameron and elsewhere. She was a mother of Christian refinement and splendid traits of character and the sorrow of the husband and children is the sorrow of all Cameron.

BETTER ROADS OUT
OF CITY PLANNED

Commercial Club Live Wires Formulate Plan for Graveling Connecting Roads.

Plans for completing gravel roads in three districts adjacent to precinct 2, of Milam county, the Cameron precinct, were formulated Wednesday afternoon in the office of County Engineer A. F. Mitchell. The meeting was attended by a number of Cameron's live wires, men who have helped to build our city and men who are looking to the future.

When the pike roads in the Cameron precinct were built money was not available to complete every road to the precinct line but were built as far out from the city as funds would permit.

It is a well known fact that as soon as the great war ended the Cameron Commercial Club through its good roads committee decided to branch out into new trade territory—a carefully laid plan was formulated and the outlying territory was divided into road districts, backed by the members of the Commercial Club and a promise to connect these districts with the Cameron pike roads, every district voted favorably for their bond issues.

The meeting Wednesday was to outline a plan whereby funds could be made available for these connecting roads. It will require $25,000 to complete the work and after a careful investigation into the matter it was decided to attempt to vote a supplemental bond issue for this amount. Under the plan the new bond issue will not increase the taxes.

The Commercial Club road committee consisting of Giles L. Avriett, Chairman, Geo. T. Graves, J. D. Dobbins and J. W. Coleman will have charge of the details of the plan, the preparing and circulating the petition, also the presentation of same to the Commissioners Court.

The designated amount, $25,000, to complete the work is on estimate made by County Engineer A. F. Mitchell after careful survey. The roads to be connected up include the Buckholts road, 2 miles; the Yarellton road, 1½ miles; the Minerva road 2-3 miles.

The completion of these roads will give Cameron a trade territory extending to the county line in every direction and will connect every town of importance in the county with the county site.

The plan for building these connecting roads was hatched out of a meeting of the Commercial Club last Friday night, being proposed by Chairman Giles L. Avriett of the good roads committee. Action taken in the matter was a motion for President Robt. McLane to instruct the finance committee and the good roads committee of the club to confer with a special committee of three to be appointed from the club and work out the details.

Those present at the meeting Wednesday afternoon were as follows: T. S. Henderson, Geo. T. Graves, Giles L. Avriett, R. P. Jeter, F. S. Lesovsky, H. M. Hefley, W. G. Gillis, E. A. Flinn.

Further announcement will be made as the details are worked out.

DR. R. L. HOWELL

Dr. R. L. Howell, with the State Board of Health, who spent six weeks in Cameron during the fall making an indexical Health Survey of Cameron, has returned. Dr. Howell has visited a number of towns over Texas since he was here in the interest of the Anti-Malaria Campaign which will be inaugurated during next spring and summer by the State Board of Health and the U. S. Public Health Service and the International Health Board. Dr. Howell's return visit to Cameron to complete the Indexical Health Survey of the city which was not finished before he was called away for the other work. It will require about 10 days to complete the work under favorable weather conditions. After this work is completed in Cameron another survey will be made in the county at one of the Independent School districts.

The name of the distributors for Dunbar's King Komus Syrup on the advertisement on page three of today's Herald, is omitted through error, and the Herald respectfully calls the attention of its readers to the fact that Robert McLane Company is the distributor for this product here.

A report from Tax Collector Bill Alex Bonds Wednesday at 2 p. m. about the automobile registration in Milam county is as follows: "We are now writing out number 1001. This is more than twice as many up to the same time last year."

POWER PLANT MAY RUN IN FEW HOURS

Manager Lawrence Gets Word From Big Shaft.—Have Steam Engine Repaired

As the Cameron Herald goes to press workman at the power plant of the Cameron Light, Water and Power Company had practically put the auxiliary steam engine damaged by the recent explosion, in a position to resume normal service and the management expects to have the plant in operation within a few hours.

C. W. Lawrence, manager of the plant, Monday, received a telegram from Kansas City that the big steel shaft which was taken out of the oil engine and sent to Milwaukee for repairs following the wreck, had passed that point on its return to Cameron. Mr. Lawrence, while deploring the delay in getting the plant into operation again, is nevertheless pleased with the progress made by the Milwaukee shops in making the repairs. "We will be able to resume normal service when the steam engine is sufficiently adjusted to the burdens it must bear in operating the plant," said Mr. Lawrence yesterday. In making the repairs on the engine sufficient time must be given to get it properly adjusted before operating at top speed.

J. F. Guggolz of Seguin, is the new superintendent, having reported to the plant at Cameron a few days ago, highly recommended by Dr. J. R. Scott, consulting engineer for the light plant.

J. M. Forsyth, a Temple machine shop superintendent, is here superintending the erection of the machinery. Both men have worked incessantly to get the big plant in operation.

The plant has two auxiliary steam engines with the main engine an oil operation piece. The ice engine has been used to furnish lights at night and to pump water. The other steam engine will take care of the light plant when it gets into operation, which is expected sometime today.

Miss Jerusha Rogers is at home again after several months stay in Washington.

CITIZENS ANGERED OVER BOLES MURDER

Parents Ask Body Be Returned to Thorndale—U. S. Sends Message To Embassy.

Word was received in Cameron yesterday afternoon from Thorndale that citizens of that city which was the home of Earl Boles, who was murdered by bandits near Tampico, Mexico, Monday had telegraphed an appeal to Senators Culberson and Shepard of Texas in Washington, protesting against the murder and demanding that the government take every step necessary to induce the Mexican government to make reparation for the death and make sure the capture and punishment of the bandits guilty of his death.

Early in the day the parents of Boles, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Boles, of Beaumont in Williamson county, applied to the state department at Washington to have the body returned to Thorndale for interment. On the petition to the government to demand reparation for the death of Boles and his companion, was the names of about sixty citizens of Thorndale where Boles was born and reared.

F. J. Roney of Houston was also killed and his body found near that of Boles in the Tampico oil fields of Mexico at Point Lobos Monday. Relatives of Earl Boles received their first information of his death through the Elks Lodge at San Marcos of which he was a member. Earl Boles was formerly with the Gulf Company at Beaumont and was prominent in

COMMERCIAL CLUB HAS TERMS OF INTERURBAN

Meeting Friday Night Will Take Up Question of Stock Necessary to Put Cameron and Milam County On Electric Line.

With the view of reaching terms of agreement by which construction may be undertaken on the proposed interurban line which is to serve Cameron and Milam county, C. A. Ryfle of the Central Texas Interurban Company met with the committee appointed from the Cameron Commercial Club in the Auditorium Hotel Thursday morning and outlined the proposition as offered by the company.

Mr. Ryfle left Cameron Thursday afternoon for his headquarters to await the decision of the committee which has the matter in hand for the Commercial Club.

The matter will be brought before the Commercial Club at its regular meeting Friday night at the club headquarters. A full attendance of the Commercial Club is requested as the matter to be decided and as large a representation of the sentiment of Cameron as possible is desired. If the Club decides to accept the proposition, it was stated by Mr. Ryfle yesterday that the engineer to the company would be sent here immediately to begin the survey of the proposed route.

Milam county is asked to take 2000 shares of the stock of the Company which will cost $200,000, it was stated by Mr. Ryfle. The money is not to be solicited after the manner of promotion, projects, but is to be deposited in the banks and held in readiness so that when the contract is let payment can be made. The money will be paid in, if raised, on the basis of $20,000 a mile for ten miles.

The company is considering a vast system of interurban railway service for Central Texas and also has in mind a plan to enter the great oil districts of the state to the north. The line which will serve Cameron is to touch at Buckholts, Rogers, Thorndale, Thrall and Taylor. The great system in Central Texas, Mr. Ryfle says will cost approximately $150,000,000 or more.

Considerable interest is being manifested in the Milam county project and a big attendance at the Commercial Club meeting Friday night is expected.

The committee from the Cameron Commercial Club is composed of 15 of the liveliest business men in the city, men that are town builders and boosters, as follows: Robt. McLane, president Commercial Club, A. H. Baskin, T. F. Hardy, Oxsheer Smith, A. N. Green, F. C. Mondrik, R. P. Jeter, W. H. Triggs, R. L. Batte, J. T. Parma, C. W. Lawrence, W. W. Chambers, T. S. Henderson, E. A. Flinn, W. G. Gillis.

Texas oil affairs in the Spindletop days.

Following the receipt of official advices from Tampico to the State Department at Washington that the Texans had been murdered, the government instructed the American embassy in Mexico City to urge the Mexican government to take every possible step to bring about the adjustment and punishment of the murderers.

The statement of the State Department yesterday regarding the murder of the Texans is as follows:

"A Tampico dispatch to the department of state announced today that F. J. Roney and Earl Boles, Americans, were murdered near Port Lobos, an oil loading station between Tampico and Tuxpam, Mexico, and that their bodies were discovered Jan. 5. The men were employed by the International Petroleum company. It is reported that the men were suspected to have in their possession pay funds for the company.

"The department of state today cabled instructions to the American embassy at Mexico City to immediately urge the Mexican government to issue orders promptly to put into effect every possible measure for the apprehension and punishment of the murderers and the embassy was directed to report specifically to the department at the earliest possible moment the action taken by the Mexican government in the case. Similar instructions were sent to the American consul at Tampico with a view to immediate action by the local authorities.

"The department has called on the consul to report further details regarding the murder."

BOARD OF STEWARDS MEET

The Board of Stewards of the Methodist church of which Dr. I. F. Key is pastor, held their regular meeting Tuesday night at the home of the pastor. Following the business session of the Stewards Rev. Key presented a program of evangelism which is to terminate with the last two Sunday's in March with a revival meeting at the church. This program of evangelism will include a survey of the church and is designated to create interest in the coming revival meeting.

The Board of Stewards, Rev. Key states, are optimistic over the general outlook for the church and are approaching the work of the New Year with confident expectation of great results for the improvement of church life in Cameron.

Following the meeting Mrs. Key rendered some musical selections and Margaret Key, seven year old daughter, sang several selections. Refreshments were served by the pastor and family.

Miss Florence Butts enjoyed a pleasant, holiday visit in Temple in the home of her uncle, Mr. Tom Hollingsworth. Miss Kathleen Darnell who is well known in Cameron and a cousin of Miss Butts, was also a visitor in this home from Gainesville.

TWO TEXANS DECORATED

Bucharest, Roumania, Jan. 8.—Two Texans have been decorated by King Ferdinand for their work as members of the American Red Cross Commission in Roumania. They are Major George Bird of Dallas, who has been made an Officer of the Crown, and Lieut. Albert Knox, of Takota, who becomes Chevalier of the Crown.

Major Burt has served as chief of administration of the affairs of the commission since the armistice. Lieut. Knox, who is 20 years old, has the distinction of being the youngest Red Cross officer in Europe. He was a soldier in the American Expeditionary forces serving throughout the St. Mihiel, Argonne and Verdun offensives. In the first drive in the Toul sector, the lieutenant was cited for bravery. At the close of the war he joined the Balkan Commission of the American Red Cross.

AMBITIOUS YOUNG FOLKS

Had it ever occurred to you that you had as well try to be a successful physician without attending a medical school, or a successful lawyer without attending a law school, or a successful minister without attending a theological school, as to try to be a successful banker, or merchant, or business man of any kind without first being trained for business in the Tyler Commercial College. You would attend a university with a reputation if you wanted to make a first class doctor, lawyer or minister. Why not use the same good judgment in selecting a business school in which to secure your training? The Tyler Commercial College of Tyler, Texas, is the business university of the South; it enrolls more students annually than any other similar school in America. Its students have come from 39 different states and seven foreign countries; its graduates are holding the very best of positions in the leading cities of the United States.

If you will spend from $150.00 to $250.00 for tuition, board and books for a course of Shorthand, Bookkeeping, Telegraphy, Cotton Clipping, or Business Finance, or better still, spend $200.00 to $300.00 and complete any two of these courses, you will have made the best investment of your life. What young man or woman with grit and determination cannot raise this amount? Hundreds of students who borrowed every cent of the money to attend this school, or gave their note for part of their tuition will readily tell you it was the best venture of their lives; they were soon able, through the good positions secured them by the college, to pay what they owed and continue to hold their good positions or go into business for themselves and succeed. If you always remain where you are, you will always be what you are. Think this statement over seriously. More than 300 new students, before this month closes, will be added to the fifteen hundred that are now here. Why not you be among the number? You can enter any day and take up the work. For large free catalogue, verifying the above and more, fill in and mail.

PINK BUNGALOW

By IZOLA FORRESTER.

It was pink, a rampant rose pink that smote the eyes the instant the shore train rounded the cove, and its veranda was a clambering mass of rose clusters from rock foundation to roof.

Mrs. Demorest took one look at it and leaned back in her car horrified. "I can't imagine why you even thought I could live next door to that horror all summer," she told Dudley.

"It will fairly smoke on hot days with such coloring. Who lives there?" "Oh, mother dear, who cares who lives there," teased the major. "After all I've been through a pink bungalow won't ruffle my happiness. You've been living too easily over here. Turn your back on it if you don't like it."

Which she certainly proceeded to do; not only her back, but Venetian blinds were ordered immediately for that side of the Demorest veranda, and Japanese shades for the sleeping porch and bedroom windows, that no glare of the offending pink should hit her eyes.

The major was strictly neutral. He lounged about the grounds, chatting with the gardener and chauffeur, or strolled the two blocks down to the wide strip of beach every morning before breakfast. And here he did have a startling experience which failed to reach the ears of Mrs. Demorest. It must have been about 6:30.

Just as he came down his steps he caught a flash of rose pink running along the sidewalk from the beach, looking for all the world like a large runaway rose. It turned into the garden next door, ran up the steps and vanished.

"God bless us," murmured the major thoughtfully. "What was that, Judd?" The gardener shook his head.

"Deed, sir, I couldn't say. It's de young lady next door. She takes her dip early. She lives with her grandma, very dignified old lady, sir. Understand she got back from war lately, too; used to drive her own motor car full of sick folks."

This was establishing a fraternal basis for opening up overtures. The major waited his chance, and called, not on the rose girl, but on her grandmother. Mme. Sigourney welcomed him charmingly. They had come to America after the invasion of northern France, and one granddaughter had married here, Diane, the younger, had kept on her work at the front until the close of the war. Now they were resting at Spring Beach until the return home.

The major told his mother nothing of his visit.

Mrs. Demorest was too much engrossed in her own activities to notice what was developing beyond the Venetian blinds. After much argument the little close corporation at Spring Beach which comprised local "society" had decided to give a Versailles fete under Mrs. Demorest's guidance.

"We have everything but celebrities, dear," she told the major. "Can't you find me some heroes?"

"They'd run ten miles from being on a parade like that, Mumsie," he laughed. "I wouldn't be responsible." "But Mr. Everitt will be there, and he was on so many committees over there, and so very important, Jack, that we must have him meet some one of importance. We're going to have the dear countess—oh, I forget her name. Mrs. Vaughan knows her well. She will be guest of honor after Mr. Everitt, or should she come first?"

The major rose restlessly at a flash of pink in the garden and excused himself.

"Have it your own way, Mumsie," he told her, hurrying out to find Diane. Later on he did suggest that they include their neighbors on the receiving committee for the fete, but Mrs. Demorest refused.

"Pink bungalow, that tells it all, Jack."

The day of the fete the major declined to attend. He was extremely "busy," it appeared, and no coaxing would make him stir.

"I'm sure it's that girl in pink," Mrs. Demorest thought anxiously as she turned her head to watch him out of sight. "Men are impossible."

At half past three Diane came down the steps next door, lovely as a rose in her new gown, with a rose pink parasol tilted over her. The major joined her at once and discovered that she was bound for the fete over at the Vaughans' grounds. Also, "la bonne grandmere" was likewise going, and he wondered why her brown eyes shone with mischief as she told him by all means he could accompany them.

As they entered the beautiful entrance gates at Lynwood, he saw Everitt hurrying toward them. The whole receiving line of ladies seemed to wait their cue, and Diane laughed with eager outstretched hands.

"Oh, but it is so good to see you again, Monsieur Everitt!"

The major's heels clicked attention and his chin was up as he realized the joke was on him. The Countess de Sigourney was being welcomed by Spring Beach's best, and his rose girl was swept away from him. As the truth dawned on Mrs. Demorest, she came to him anxiously and laid her hand on his arm.

"I'm so very sorry, Jack. Of course I couldn't be expected to know, could I? And a pink bungalow is rather disturbing. Have I hurt your chances?"

He laughed, his eyes softening as they followed Diane.

"No, Mumsie. Madame gave her consent to our marriage last night."

Mules

THEY are from 3 to 5 years. Also a few of them to about 8 years old. I will sell them at a very small margin. And they will be sold under a strict guarantee to be as I represent them. If not, I will refund the money. I have been told by a few farmers that my guarantee is no good. I have been in Rosebud for about 9 or 10 years. There are three banks there. You may call any bank in that city you wish, to find out if my guarantee is good or not; because I sell mules from $50 to $75 cheaper than any one else in town, or any other place. Will sell on credit as well as for cash, for the same price, good bankable notes. Come and see me at once, and buy your bargains.

LEAP YEAR PARTY

Saturday night Miss Mary Lake Henderson entertained for the girls who were at home for the holidays. The evening was spent in simple contests and in spinning yarns. The feature of the evening was a leap year proposal contest in which the girls made use of their newly acquired prerogative of seeking proper soul mates. The eligible, but seemingly bashful bachelors of the city were portioned out to the guests, who made eager and clever work of bringing up—in prose or in verse—the main issue of the year. The proposals were read aloud, approved and auctioned off to the highest bidders for future use. During the evening Mrs. Henderson and Misses Olive and Agnes Henderson served hot tea, and fruit cake. The guests for the evening were: Misses Estelle Coleman, Clara Curtis, Grace Gillon, Mary Burns, Aetna Smith, Sallie Kate McLane, Rose Rishar, Lil and Beth Jeter, Alice and Olive McGehee, Sue and Dora Shaw, Winnie, Katharine and Ruth Henderson, and Mesdames S. M. Burns, Jr., W. O. Triggs, Lloyd Mitchell and Vernon McIntyre.

COLLEGE GIRLS AND BOYS

School work in our various Universities and Colleges began this week, and the holiday fun is over for the college crowd.

Ben Baskin left the day after Xmas for A. and M. in order to make up time lost from school while he was in the hospital this fall with a leg broken in a football game. Our other A. and M. boys: Vernon Roberts, Fontaine Flinn, Clifton Rogers, George Clement, L. J. Epperson, Cecil Barmore, Powell Tyson, and Charlie Nabors left Sunday for College Station.

Misses Harriett Henderson, Owen Bacon, and Ruth Blunt returned to Baylor College Monday afternoon.

The Southwestern crowd was among the first to leave for school after the holidays. Cameron is well represented in Southwestern by the following young folks who returned to school Friday: Misses Irene Cheeves, Anna Lou Baskin, Maurine House and Messrs. Claude Triggs, Jack and Walter Adams and Nat Wafford.

Misses Katie McCall, Emma Atkinson, Agnes Dusek, and Messrs. Elliott Atkinson, Knox Tyson, Pric Cross, George Hefley, Hilton Howell and Moulton Cobb, all of whom were at home for the holidays, have returned to Texas State University.

Misses Gladys Watson, Louise Gillon, and Reba Cheeves left Saturday for Southern Methodist University in Dallas.

The Baylor University crowd which includes, Misses Louise Green, Ruth Coleman, Mabel Jeter, Sue Harlan, Nadeen Bragg, and Messrs. Jim and Mike Coleman, returned to school in full force Sunday afternoon. Miss Mary McLane left with the crowd Sunday, and will enter Baylor University this term. Bob Pool, another of our Cameron boys, is a student in the University and is also assistant in the English department of Baylor. Bob was home for a couple of days during the holidays.

Miss Lois Epperson left Saturday for Denton where she will continue work in the College of Industrial Arts, which work was interrupted by her illness last fall. Miss Motie Cass, who is private secretary to the president of C. I. A., returned to her work Sunday. Miss Annie Lee Peeples, who spent last term in Baylor College, is attending C. I. A. this term.

Jack Vest, Drayton McLane, and Hal Lyons, who are attending Castle Heights in Lebanon, Tenn., left Wednesday to resume their school work.

Delbert Childress who is attending Dental School in Dallas has returned to his studies after spending Xmas with home folks.

Edward Shaw and Mitsu Hoskino,

who were in Cameron during the holidays, have returned to their work in the Medical Department of Texas State University at Galveston.

COMPLIMENT DINNER.

Mrs. W. A. Bonds entertained in honor of her cousin, Miss Ruby Caton, with a four-course dinner Friday night. The centerpiece for the table was a bowl of gorgeous red carnations, and from the chandelier to the table red tulle fell in graceful lines. Small bouquets of begonia leaves with red blossoms made dainty plate favors for the eight charming young ladies: Misses Ruby Caton, Sallie Coleman, Olive Henderson, Pauline Green, Alice Lucille Garrison, Nona Hubert, Martha Lou Hooks, and Mary Frances Green. After dinner the following young gentlemen called: Messrs. Glynn Flinn, Jack Hearrell, Billie Clark, Eugene Green, Phillip Reid, Richard Vest, and Bassett Watson.

NEW YEAR PARTY

Mrs. C. N. Green began the new year by entertaining with a one o'clock dinner January first for the friends of her daughter, Mary Frances. The dinner, which was elaborate and delicious, was followed by an afternoon of music and fun, and ended at night with a picture show party at Wonderland Theatre. The guests were Misses Olive Henderson, Frances Hefley, Velda Walker, Alice Lucille Garrison, Dora Poteet, Martha Lou Hooks, Sallie Coleman, Ruby Caton, and Pauline Green.

PICTURE SHOW PARTY

Mrs. Dan Tyson gave a picture show party Tuesday, December the thirtieth for her sister, Miss Frances Hefley, and a number of her young friends. The guests met at the Dan Tyson home at 2 o'clock, and chaperoned by Mrs. Tyson and little Miss Jane, went to the Wonderland Theatre, where they saw a good show. After the show they returned to the Tyson home and were served delicious refreshments of salads, and tea. The guests for the afternoon were: Misses Frances Hefley, Dora Poteet, Louise Adams, Martha Lou Hooks, Sallie Coleman, Velda Walker, Inez Tyson, and Agnes Henderson.

FORTY-TWO CLUB

The Forty-two Club began the new year with a joyous gathering at the Tom Denson home last Thursday with Mrs. Roy Baskin as hostess. Mrs. Baskin announced that the object was to lose instead of to win the games, thus making the winners losers, and foot-table, head-table. This caused a jolly mix-up and made everything delightfully informal and merry. In spite of all she could do to prevent it, one lady actually made her bid of 168. At the conclusion of the games, Mrs. Vernon McIntyre, who was the most successful loser, was awarded with a bouquet of crimson carnations. To Miss Clara Thomas, who was so unlucky as to win the most of the games, was given a monkey on a string. Delightful two-course refreshments of salads, sandwiches, olives, tea and marshmallow pudding and fruit cake were served. The guests for the afternoon included: Mesdames Jno. Watson, B. J. Baskin, H. F. Smith, Jr., W. A. Gillon, Geo. Tiffany Moore, John B. Poteet, Howard Baskin, Wilard Chambers, John Mangum, S. M. Burns, Jr., B. P. Atkinson, Albert Triggs, R. D. Brown, and Misses Clara Thomas, Aetna Smith, Edna Sprinkel, Sallie Kate McLane, Katherine and Mary Lake Henderson.

It has been the custom of Mr. R. L. Batte, Sr., to meet his oil mill, gin and farm superintendents and managers once yearly if possible for a dinner and get-together meeting. On New Year's night those of his men who reside in Cameron, numbering about 26, were invited to his home by Mrs. Batte for a dinner.

The beginning of the new year was a most auspicious time for such a meeting. The guests arrived at eight o'clock and were at once ushered into the large living room, cheerful with a bright fire, bunches of holly and pink carnations. After a few minutes they were invited to a most delicious supper served by negro waiters amid a setting of Xmas greens. The flowers adorning the table were deep red carnations and beautiful cut glass and silver added to its charm. But best of all was the lovely supper placed in plenty on the long table beginning with the turkey and accompanying delicacies and ending with pink and white brick cream with cakes of all kinds. Spirited conversation and a general good time made time pass quickly. When the guests had enjoyed this sumptuous repast, they once more gathered in the living room where cigars were passed. Beautiful victrola selections were played and every man thoroughly enjoyed himself.

Major R. Lyles and family have moved to Bay City. The Major is one of our oldest and best known citizens, and we shall miss him, and his family from our midst. Our good wishes go with the Lyles to their new home.

You Do More Work,

You are more ambitious and you get more enjoyment out of everything when your blood is in good condition. Impurities in the blood have a very depressing effect on the system, causing weakness, laziness, nervousness and sickness.

GROVE'S TASTELESS Chill TONIC restores Energy and Vitality by Purifying and Enriching the Blood. When you feel its strengthening, invigorating effect, see how it brings color to the cheeks and how it improves the appetite, you will then appreciate its true tonic value.

GROVE'S TASTELESS Chill TONIC is not a patent medicine, it is simply IRON and QUININE suspended in Syrup. So pleasant even children like it. The blood needs Quinine to Purify it and IRON to Enrich it. These reliable tonic properties never fail to drive out impurities in the blood.

The Strength-Creating Power of GROVE'S TASTELESS Chill TONIC has made it the favorite tonic in thousands of homes. More than thirty-five years ago, folks would ride a long distance to get GROVE'S TASTELESS Chill TONIC when a member of their family had Malaria or needed a body-building, strength-giving tonic. The formula is just the same today, and you can get it from any drug store. 60c per bottle.

SCHOOL STANDARD MODEL FOR STATE GRADING

Department of Education Will Use Cameron Educational System to Perfect Plan For Standards In All Texas Schools.

The Cameron Public School has been designated as one of the few schools in the State to form a basis for perfecting a graded standard for the schools of Texas.

There is at present no absolute standard by which to measure ability in grades, and the State University of Texas has accordingly prepared tests in handwriting, spelling, arithmetic, reading and composition for every grade from the beginners to the graduates. From these averages total averages made from the ten test schools will serve as a permanent basis of measurement of graded ability.

These tests are designated, not only to show the general ability of each grade, but also point out to the teacher the weak places in teaching, and will thus assist the instructor in raising the class room standard. Superintendent Kidd has been directing the tests in the Cameron School, and is gratified with the record which the school has made.

The tests in hand writing have been completed and the school's average is well above the tentative average outlined by the University in both quality and speed. In spelling the school average is especially satisfactory. This proves the efficiency of a new method of teaching spelling that was installed throughout the school last year. The results of the arithmetic tests in our school are fair. In the four fundamentals—addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division—the grades were above the tentative average. In reasoning, the school average was fair, but not excellent. The reading and composition tests have yet to be given, but Superintendent Kidd feels sure that the Cameron School will measure well up to the standard of a good school in these subjects. It is a credit to Cameron to have the school selected as one of the ten test schools of the State, and it is very gratifying to know that the Cameron Public School is in first class condition.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR INCOME TAX GIVEN

March 15 Last Day on Which Returns May Legally Reach Internal Revenue Officer.

Austin, Texas, Jan. 7.—The following information relating to an individual's liability in making income tax reports and paying the tax is issued by the Collector of internal revenue, for the District of Texas:

All married persons whose net income during the year 1919 equals or exceeds $2,000.00, and all single persons whose net income equals or exceeds $1,000.00, are required to make an income tax report. If you were married or head of a family on the 31st day of December 1919, you are entitled to an exemption of only $1,000.00. Persons are also entitled to a further credit, whether single, married or at the head of a family, of $200.00 for each person (other than husband or wife) dependent upon and receiving his or her chief support from them during the year, if such person under 18 years of age or is incapable of self support by reason of mental or physical disability.

The normal income tax is at the rate of 4 per cent upon the first $1,000 of the net income in excess of the credits allowed, and 8 per cent upon an excess of that amount. A person receiving a net income in excess of $5,000 is also liable to a surtax of 1 per cent upon income from $5,000 to $6,000; 2 per cent from $6,000 to $8,000; 3 per cent from $8,000 to $10,000, etc.

All amounts received from the sale of crops, dairy products, eggs, fruit, live stock products, live stock whether raised on the farm or not, and all other farm products, and all amounts received for board of persons, board and pasturage of animals, labor of men and teams, hire or use of machinery, and all other earnings arising from farming operations must be reported in the tax return.

These are some of the deductions allowed from the gross income in arriving at the net income: Taxes paid or accrued during the taxable year, except Federal income, war profits, and excess taxes, and taxes assessed against local benefits and of a kind tending to increase the value of the property assessed; interest paid or accrued within the taxable year; losses sustained during the year and not covered by insurance. A reasonable allowance for obsolescence; contributions not in excess of 15 per cent of net income to religious, charitable, scientific or educational institutions. Amounts paid for labor during the year covered by report in land for a crop, cultivating and marketing of the crop and marketing of the crop seed and fertilizer used.

amounts expended for labor in caring for the live stock; amounts paid for feed during the year covered by report; repairs for farm buildings (not dwelling) fences, farm machinery, etc; cost of farm tools which are used up in the course of a year or so; and the amount paid for the rent of a farm, are classed as necessary expenses and are deductible from the gross income.

These items are not deductible from the gross income: Personal living and family expenses, any amount paid out for buildings or for permanent improvements made to increase the value of the property; amounts expended in restoring property or in making good the exhaustion thereof for which allowance is or has been made.

Income tax returns must be made out and filled with the Collector of Internal Revenue, Austin, Texas, not later than March 15th, 1920, for the income during the year 1919 and the entire amount of the tax may be paid at that time or in four installments; one fourth on March 15th, one fourth on June 15th; one fourth September 15th, and one fourth on December 15th.

Persons who fail to make out income tax returns as provided by law are liable to a fine of not more than $10,000 or imprisonment not to exceed 12 months, or both in addition to other penalties.

WAR LIQUOR ACT CONGRESS UPHELD

Manufacture of Beverages Over One And One-Half Per Cent Prohibited By Decision.

Washington, Jan. 7.—By a margin of one vote the Supreme court today upheld the right of congress to define intoxicating liquors insofar as applied to war-time prohibition.

In a five to four opinion given by Associate Justice Brandeis, the court sustained the constitutionality of the provisions in the Volstead prohibition enforcement act prohibiting the manufacture and sale of beverages containing one-half of one per cent or more of alcohol. Associate Justices Day, Vandevanter, McReynolds and Clarke dissented.

Wets Have Little Hope.
Validity of the federal prohibition constitutional amendment and of portions of the Volstead act affecting its enforcement was not involved in the proceedings but the opinion was regarded so sweeping as to leave little hope among the "wet" adherents.

In giving the opinion, the court sustained federal decrees dismissing injunction proceedings to enjoin federal authorities from preventing Jacob Ruppert, a New York brewer, from

INTERURBAN COMMITTEE TO CONFER

President O. A. Ryffe and Engineers to Visit Cameron Today for Conference.

The meeting of the board of directors of the Cameron Commercial Club last Friday night was noted with a full attendance. The announcement that the interurban project would be discussed is given as the reason for the large attendance. However, many other important matters for the building of Cameron on the 1920 program were discussed at length, this being the first meeting of the new year. After the regular routine of business the secretary brought up under the head of unfinished business the matter of the interurban for Cameron, relating that President O. A. Ryffe of the central Texas interurban company had been in communication and wanted to know if the committee appointed recently was ready for a visit from himself and his engineers. The directors meeting was quick to take action in the matter and the old time live spirit that was manifested when this project was first announced was noticeable. The secretary was instructed to phone Mr. Ryffe and tell him the committee was ready any time. A conversation Saturday morning with this gentleman resulted in the arrangement of a conference today (Thursday, Jan. 8). The committee from the Cameron commercial club is composed of 15 of the liveliest business men in the city, men that are town builders and boosters, as follows: Robt. McLane, president commercial club, A. H. Baskin, T. F. Hardy, Oxsheer Smith, A. N. Green, F. C. Mondrik, R. P. Jeter, W. H. Triggs, R. L. Batte, J. T. Parma, C. W. Lawrence, W. W. Chambers, T. S. Henderson, E. A. Flinn, W. G. Gilles. A full committee meeting will be attempted and is arranged for 3 p. m. in the parlors of the Auditorium Hotel.

Another very important matter acted upon by the commercial club directors was the looking after the census enumeration in the city. The matter was discussed and the action was to have hand bills printed sufficient in number to place one in every home, calling attention to the coming of the enumerators, telling of the importance of same. A few days before the work is completed another hand bill will be distributed seeking information about those who have failed to be counted. It is the plan of the club to get every inhabitant counted. Headquarters for information about the work for parties who will be missed and do not understand the details has been established at the office of the commercial club secretary and plans are under way to put Cameron on the map with a full census.

Road matters were given consideration at the meeting, the Buckholts road having been inspected only this week by the state and federal highway engineers, County Auditor Giles Avriett made a lengthy report on the matter. He said the bids would be advertised for in a very few days. This is an important piece of road being a connecting highway between the two roads that traverse the state there having been $25,000 state and federal aid allowed for same.

Manufacturing beer containing in excess of one-half of one per cent, but which he alleged was non-intoxicating.

Brewers Cases Dismissed

The "Wets," however, received a brief ray of hope when, shortly afterward Associate Justice Day, in a unanimous opinion, sustained the dismissal of indictments brought under the war-time prohibition act against the Standard Brewery of Baltimore and the American Brewing company of New Orleans for manufacturing 2.75 beer before the court held that congress has the right to determine what is intoxicating beverages, but in view of the fact that the Volstead act had not yet been passed, manufacture of low alcohol beer was permissible under the war-time prohibition act, providing it was not intoxicating.

John Sapp, formerly with Daugherty Motor Company in Cameron, has accepted a position in Hearne, Texas, with the Brazos Valley garage.

CAMERON MAN IS SLAIN BY BANDITS

Early Boles Dead in Tampico Says Telegraphic Message to Brother Here.

Early Boles, former resident of Cameron and for the past five years interested in oil operations at Tampico, Mexico, was killed by Mexican bandits raiding in the vicinity of Tampico Monday, according to telegraphic information received here by his brother, Kirby Boles, a citizen of Cameron. Details are lacking concerning the murder of Mr. Boles by the bandits and the only information so far received in Cameron is the plain telegraphic statement telling of his death and by whom the murder was committed.

Early Boles was for many years a citizen of Milam county. He was 29 years old and left this county five years ago for Tampico where he has since resided. Besides his brother in Cameron, Kirby Boles, he is survived by two brothers, Seth Boles of Nile, and Surry Boles of Thorndale, a sister, Mrs. Ross Williams of Nile, and parents who reside at Beaufort, south of Thorndale.

No word has been received here as to the disposition of the body and it is not known whether it will be brought to Cameron for burial. It is said that the matter has been brought officially to the attention of the Federal Government but nothing as to developments in the case has been received in Cameron.

Recent outrages of a similar nature on American citizens residing in Mexico and the recent kidnapping of Consular Agent Jenkins, recall to mind the threatened international rupture between the United States and Mexico. These cases are still pending and no definite policy is forthcoming from the Mexican government toward giving the desired protection to American life and property as asked by the United States.

While these outrages have continued for some years in Mexico and many American citizens have been murdered this is the first tragedy to have claimed its toll of life from the citizenship in this immediate section and the matter caused widespread indignation and sincere regret in Cameron and Milam county.

Commissioners Court.

A special session of the Commissioners Court will convene at Cameron on Thursday, January 8th, for the purpose of considering bids for the erection of a trestle at the Holtzclaw bridge on Little river. Also some road matters pertaining to Jones Prairie road district number fifteen, and other road matters may be considered at that time.

Mr. G. B. Hohenstein of Pauhaska Okla., was here last week looking over prospects in the Cameron-Tracy oil field. Mr. Hohenstein and family may decide to locate in Cameron permanently.

In common with thirty thousand of their fellow employees in other cities, the local employees of the Western Union Telegraph Company who have been six months or more in the service of the company will participate in salary increases totaling over five million dollars a year commencing January 1st. Employees who have been a year or more in the service will receive a 15 per cent increase and those who have been six months but less than a year in the service will receive 10 per cent. Only employees who receive less than $250 a month will participate.

Mrs. G. D. Fisher, manager of the local office state that these increases are in pursuance of an agreement reached some time ago between the management and the Association of Western Union employees. The Western Union is one of the large corporations which engages in the process of collective bargaining with its employees, and this is the latest of several general increases which have been negotiated as a means of offsetting to a certain extent the increased cost of living which has fallen so heavily upon the salaried class.

Mrs. Bessie Lowe had as guests during the holidays Mrs. Watt Henderson of Ft. Worth and Mrs. S. W. Webb of Plainview. Mrs. Webb will be remembered by her Cameron friends as Miss Hallie Byrd Perkins. Mrs. Lowe's brother, Dr. Lydell, was with her at Christmas time also.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Rev. W. E. Phillips held services at the Episcopal church Sunday afternoon at three-thirty. Mr. Phillips has taken charge of the Cameron church, and in the near future hopes to establish himself here.

Until further notice regular service will be held at half past three. All members of the congregation and interested friends are earnestly urged to be present at these services.

Mr. Prentiss E. Bellinger of Altus, Oklahoma was in Cameron during the Xmas holidays. Mr. Bellinger was a member of the Cameron High School faculty in 1917, and left here to enter the service of his country in the world war. Since his discharge from duty, Mr. Bellinger has held a responsible position with a bank in Altus.

MANY INQUIRE INTO PAPER SHORTAGE

Federal Trade Commission Is Requested to Probe Charges.

Washington, Jan. 7.—The federal trade commission has been asked by Attorney General Palmer to re-open its investigation of the news print manufacturers association, members of which produce a large proportion of the paper used by American newspapers.

The Attorney General's formal request, filed yesterday and made public today, was said to have been actuated by scores of complaints from newspaper publishers, asserting that the agreement in settlement of the anti-trust suits against the manufacturers' association had not been complied with. This agreement primarily provided that the manufacturers observe prices fixed by the trade commission until three months after the war, and that small publishers not be made the victims of preferential treatment.

Question on which Mr. Palmer asked the trade commission to base its investigation and submit a report

One million dollars for good roads in Milam county. That is the sum the progressive citizenship has seen fit to authorize by bond issue in this county for the improvement of the highway system in the rural districts and to connect the county with two national highways.

Of this amount nearly $500,000 is available from recent bond issues in the several precincts. Weather conditions have militated against construction of roads and numerous contracts are being held up until the road crews can get on the roads with their machinery. These funds are held on deposit in the Milam county banks for expenditure in carrying out the contracts entered into by the Commissioners of the precincts that have authorized the bonds.

By virtue of these bonds a complete outlet on the eastern side of the county is made to the Meridian National Highway which is to serve this and other sections of Texas. On the west side of the county a connection is made with the King's Trail another of the designated National Highways. With her internal system of communication by roads well improved and connections made with these two National Highways effected, Milam county is well served with roads. In fact, Milam county will have one of the most complete systems of roads of any county in the State.

County Judge W. G. Gillis says that the bonds in the Milam district to the amount of $150,000 have not yet been sold, only recently having been authorized by the people of the district. In the north portion of the county, Judge Gillis says, $440,000 awaits expenditure from districts 2, 6 and 7, known as Justice Precincts. Some of the older issues of bonds for road improvement are in Precincts No. 1, 3, 4, 5, and 8.

Road construction in Milam county is feasible at reduced costs owing to the abundance of native road materials found in various parts of the county. Local gravel beds have been exploited extensively during the past few years and an almost inexhaustible supply of material is found. Along the breaks in the rivers of the county a high quality gravel is found.

The automobile and the motor truck as an auxiliary transportation unit has done much to further the cause of good roads and as the farmer and merchant finds these utilities indispensable the next thought is to build a system of roads on which to operate them.

Motorization in Milam county is keeping pace with the construction of roads. Farmers through Cameron dealers have begun the installation of power machinery on the farm thus improving and making more efficient their methods.

Whether the manufacturers who signed the settlement agreement have actually produced the daily tonnage of news print paper which they subjected to the terms of the agreement

Whether the manufacturers have offered that amount of tonnage for sale to the trade.

How much of the tonnage the manufacturers have sold to the jobbers, dealers and other middlemen and at what prices and whether the so-called middlemen have observed the maximum commissions fixed pursuant to the settlement agreement.

Newspaper publishers throughout the country recently have felt keenly high prices of print paper. Many of the complaints made to the attorney general, it was said, asserted that the manufacturers had not lived up to their agreement, either in the matter of supplies or prices.

The United States district court for the southern district of New York which entered the decree finding the eight members of the newsprint manufacturers two years ago, still retains jurisdiction in the case.

STORIES FOR THE CHILDREN

(By M. A. M.)
THE TEMPLE

The New Year comes and with it the day on which most of us decide to live a better life and build a greater, nobler character and fail because we do not live in close fellowship with Jesus and let His spirit breathe thru all our thoughts, words and acts.

We would remember that great truth St. Paul tried so hard to impress on us: "The Body is the Temple of the Soul." For a little while, let us study the history and description of "The Temple" spoken of as Solomon's Temple in the old testament and in the days of Christ as Herod's Temple. About 1500 year B. C. God called the Hebrew nation, numbering perhaps 1,000,000 out of Egypt (the most civilized and cultured country of the world) where they had been for 400 years, trained in the arts of architecture, chemistry, law and medicine) where they had learned to make brick and build immense buildings which lasted for hundreds of years and to beautify them, with engravings, statues and carvings in wood, brass, silver and gold, there they learned to weave flax and wool, linen and silk and prepare furs and do various kinds of beautiful and useful handwork. The Israelites were so useful to the Egyptians God had to afflict them with ten plagues before they let the Israelites leave for the Land of Canaan and then perform a wonderful miracle to prevent the Israelites from being taken back to slavery. After the wonderful crossing of the Red Sea, guided by a pillar of cloud through the days and protected by a pillar of fire through the nights, at length they reached the foot of Mt. Sinai and camped there for about one year with their numerous herds. There God, through Moses, made a covenant with them, saying: "Ye shall be unto me a Kingdom of priests a holy nation." After many signs of glory gave them the Ten Commandments; then called Moses upon the mountain where God gave the Ten Commandments written on stone and a description and pattern of the Tabernacle, each article of its furnishings and also costumes for the priests, stipulating that all the work and materials should be willingly and lovingly given. The Tabernacle contained the Ark of the Covenant where God would manifest himself and talk to the people. Through their years of wanderings and conquests in Canaan the Tabernacle was carried by the Levites until it occupied the chief place in Solomon's Temple, 1000 years B. C. David, the shepherd King, after years of battle in which he extended the Kingdom of Israel until it reached its farthestmost boundaries and strengthened them and made treaties with neighboring nations and built himself a home. One day while enjoying the pleasures of home, David told Nathan, the prophet, his heart's desire was to build for God to dwell in, using these words: "I dwell in a house of cedar but the Ark

of the Covenant of the Lord remaineth under curtains." Nathan approved; later God sent Nathan to David with this message: "Thou hast shed blood abundantly and made great wars, thou shalt not build a house unto my name." God was so pleased with David's love and great desire that He made David this promise: "Behold a son shall be born to thee, His name shall be Solomon; I will give him rest and peace from all his enemies and I will give peace and quietness unto Israel in his days. He shall build a house for my name." Then through all the years until David had Solomon crowned King of Israel, David delighted to collect materials for the house of God and its furnishings. Shortly before his death David called all the provinces of Israel and the priests and Levites together and charged Solomon to build unto the Lord in these words: "Be strong and fear not, nor be dismayed for the Lord God, even my God, will be with thee. He will not forsake thee until thou hast finished the work for the services of the house of the Lord; behold the priests and Levites will be with thee and there shall be with thee all manner of workmanship from willing, skillful men and the princes of people will be at thy command." After which David urged the princes, priests, Levites and people to assist in the work and then gave his own donations thus: "I have prepared with all my might for the house of God gold for things that are to be made of gold, silver for silver things, brass for brass things, and wood for the wooden things, onyx stones, stones to be set, glittering stones of diverse colors, all manner of precious stones and marble in abundance, and above all, I have prepared for the Holy House 300,000 talents of gold of ophir, 7,000 talents of refined silver to overlay the walls." David's gift in gold was $232,746,000, in silver $20,758,000 besides iron, stone and precious stones in abundance and he gave for the interior of the Temple in gold $2,908,500,000, in silver $1,940,000,000, brass and iron without weight and timber and stone in abundance. David gave the princes, priests, Levites and people an opportunity to donate which they did willingly, rejoicing with great joy. The Temple was completed after seven years of labor of thousands of men modeled after the Tabernacle, situated on Mt. Moriah, where Abraham offered Isaac and formed part of the eastern boundary of Jerusalem. The materials were immense white stones 40x60 feet, pillars of Parian marble 40 feet in length, woodwork of cedar fir and sandal wood exquisitely carved and vast quantities of gold, silver and brass, in ceiling the Holy of Holies 30 tons of gold was used. Built in form of a quadrangle, facing the rising sun, surrounded by a quadrangle wall containing seven gates; inside of wall three quadrangle courts rising one above the other, separated by partition and encircled by marble cloisters the outer court for Gentiles above this, entered through nine gates 60 feet high covered with gold and silver was the court of Israel only Jews permitted within; Eastern half, woman's court, on a higher terrace, court of priests; Temple proper 120 feet long on higher level of Western end of priests' court; opposite the brazen altar a porch 180 feet high covered with gold and precious stones and behind it the holy place opening through the great veil into the Holy of Holies. Furniture lavish beyond description, more than 1,000,000 vessels of gold and silver; more than 2,000,000 costly sacerdotal robes in store. When finished, 1,000 B. C., Solomon dedicated the Temple, brought the Ark of the Covenant with great sacrifices and rejoicing and placed in the most Holy place and the glory of the Lord filled the place. After 400 years, the people drifted into idolatry and God let Nebuchadnezzar destroy the Temple and take the nobles of the people into captivity. Years later Cyrus gave them permission to return to Judah and rebuild the Temple on the same foundations, which was done under the leadership of Zerubbabel, but far inferior to Solomon's and lacked its chief glory, the Ark of the Covenant which had been destroyed a few years before Christ. Herod the Great greatly enlarged and enriched the Temple and beautified and extended its grounds until they contained 20 acres and gave his own name to it. Herod's Temple was destroyed by the Romans under Titus A. D. 70 and a Mohammedan temple (the Mosque of Omar) has been standing on its site for 12,000 years. Part of the original foundation of Solomon's Temple still remains.

Remember, 'twas willing, loving service that pleased our Heavenly Father in the olden times and in our present time. Our next story will please the little folks more.

(By Clyde Langston Eddy)
The shaded lamp throws softest beams,
And as I watch her face it seems
That we have never been apart
And that the weary months have been
But melancholy dreams.

The days that passed with leaden feet
Are filled for me with fancies sweet.
Verdun is mine in memory,
And matchless comrades may I now
In recollection greet.

Kindly they treated me—the years
That brought to her so many tears.
So many hours of restless care,
So many days and weeks and months
Of overwhelming fears.

She reads to me, the light turned low,
Just as before, her hair aglow
With ruddy fire. But now
There's glint of silver there that once
I did not know—

A few tired lines that were not there,
A few strands of greying hair;
Two years of life are lost to her—
Two golden years of youth. It seems
Not altogether fair.

So many people make the dreadful mistake of never stopping to enjoy life until it is too late. A very fortunate few have acquired the knack of thoroughly enjoying each day as it comes, of being interested in the people they meet and of finding dozens of amusing incidents every day. These are the people who never grow old. But most of us lack the ability to feel interested sufficiently in our fellow-beings to gain this trait. A stranger is a stranger like dozens of other strangers to us; a clerk is a clerk; school children are school children. We plod along each day doing the things we did the day before, seeing the same people and thinking that everything is the same. It behooves such people to completely change their surroundings once in a while so that they really may see entirely new objects and people, and get their minds out of that deadly groove.—Ex

LEMONS WHITEN AND BEAUTIFY THE SKIN

Make This Beauty Lotion Cheaply
For Your Face, Neck, Arms and Hands.

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, whitener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It is marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.

UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS NEWS

The Texas Press

Chas. B. Gillespie has resigned as managing editor of the Houston Chronicle after twenty-five years service. He is succeeded by Max Bentley who for some time past has been city editor of that paper. Mr. Gillespie becomes vice-president and manager of the Sugarland Railroad.

METAL MINING IN

TEXAS IN 1919

According to Charles W. Henderson, of the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, the Presidio mine, at Shafter, Texas, was in continuous operation during the year 1919. Small shipments of copper, lead and zinc ores were made from the Van Horn and Sierra Blanca districts. The production for the State for the year was 540,000 ounces of silver and nominal quantities of gold, lead, copper and zinc.

Finish each day and be done with it; you have done what you could. Some blunders and absurdities no doubt crept in; forget them as soon as you can. Tomorrow is a new day; begin it well and serenely, and with your old noesense. Today all is good and fair. It is too dear with its hopes and invitations to waste a moment on the yesterdays.—Emerson.

A PLEASING HARBINGER

A few days ago a news dispatch from Germany told of the first big locomotive being turned out by the Krupp works—a great steel plant which heretofore has restricted its activities to the manufacture of guns and implements of war.

This is a very modern substitute for the process of beating the sword into plowshare, and it is one that will be good for the world as well as for Germany. The giant locomotive was driven out of the shop by one of the Krupp descendants and was decorated with laurel leaves in token of the more peaceful mission of the mighty German plant.

It is a pleasing augury—this substitution of steam engines for 16-inch howitzers and long range guns. Managers of the plant hope to be able to turn out 300 locomotives a year and in their work they will have the good wishes of the whole world. Perhaps the Germans are turning the works of war to the industries of peace, but if they are not they will do so before long when more factories quit making guns and begin the manufacture of machinery more essential to the very life of a nation.

FOSTER'S WEEKLY WEATHER BUREAU

Warm waves will reach Vancouver about January 10, 16 and 22 and temperatures will rise on all the Pacific slope. They will cross crest of Rockies by close of Jan. 11, 17 and 23; plains sections 12, 18 and 24; meridian 90, great lakes, middle Gulf States and Ohio-Tennessee valleys 13, 19 and 25; eastern sections 14, 20 and 26, reaching vicinity of Newfoundland about Jan. 15, 21 and 27. Storm waves will follow about one day behind warm waves, cool waves about one day behind storm waves.

These disturbances will dominate the weather of North America from near Jan. 10 to near Jan. 27. Storm forces will increase about or soon after Jan. 19 and by Jan. 15 the storms will be well developed and of greater intensity or force than usual. The week centering on Jan. 18 will bring greatest storms, most snow or rain and greatest extremes in temperatures of all the week of January. Near Jan. 13 a high temperature wave will cross meridian 90 and a cold wave near Jan. 22.

The other weeks of January will bring moderate weather. Precipitation of the month will be short about the Gulf of Mexico and on the Pacific slope and from about to above normal in other sections. Indications are favorable to good crop weather for Winter grain during this month; also favorable to truck farming in far southern latitudes.

We are now in a new 165-day crop-weather period that will continue to end of May. Many new readers of my forecasts do not fully understand and I must repeat some of my explanations. Whoever does not understand meridian 90 can not get best results from my forecasts. Foster's Weather Map, free to subscribers of this paper, will be sent on receipt of 1-cent stamp, giving full explanations of meridian 90, crest of Rockies, the nine crop weather sections that cover the States and Canada; Vancouver, where the storm first come into telegraphic sight, the cotton sections, grain sections, Pacific slope, gaps in the Rockies where the railroads run thru them and where moist atmosphere comes thru the Rockies' crest. Always address W. T. Foster, 1625 1/2 North Capitol street, Washington, D. C.

Life Was a Misery

Mrs. F. M. Jones, of Palmer, Okla., writes: "From the time I entered into womanhood . . . I looked with dread from one month to the next. I suffered with my back and bearing-down pain, until life to me was a misery. I would think I could not endure the pain any longer, and I gradually got worse. . . Nothing seemed to help me until, one day, . . . I decided to

CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

"I took four bottles," Mrs. Jones goes on to say, "and was not only greatly relieved, but can truthfully say that I have not a pain."

"It has now been two years since I took Cardui, and I am still in good health. . . I would advise any woman or girl to use Cardui who is a sufferer from any female trouble."

If you suffer pain caused from womanly trouble, or if you feel the need of a good strengthening tonic to build up your run-down system, take the advice of Mrs. Jones. Try Cardui. It helped her. We believe it will help you.

of the storms and the dates on which they will be most severe, where the warm waves, cool waves, storm waves will be on certain dates. I can not mention every potato patch on the continent but all readers who give a little thought can understand when I expect each weather feature, as it moves eastward to reach their localities.

These forecasts are not perfect, never will be, but they are valuable and I challenge the weather guessers to a test of their guesses against my forecasts. If my forecasts are more valuable than their guesses then my work is worth many times more than it costs.

I am glad to receive questions and suggestions from subscribers to this paper. I want them to become members of the American Meteorological Society in order that they may have better opportunities to study weather questions and bring those questions before their citizens' organizations of which every reader of my work, men and women, old and young, should become members. One dollar a year will pay for membership in the American Meteorological Society, including the Monthly Meteorological Bulletin one year. I particularly request that all my readers assist in extending the circulation of the newspapers that publish my work. You can assist yourselves, each other and the publishers of this paper by following above suggestions.

Says Vice-President Marshall, writing in Leslie's of the "great middle class in America." "They constitute the backbone of the republic. They do not want to form themselves in an organization, but they are rapidly coming together, and it will not be long, unless the plain truth is seen and acted upon in business and in legislation, until they, too, will be hammering at the doors of congress, saying: 'Wo, too, have some rights in this republic for which we have lived and labored and which we love.'"

There was an oppressive silence in the parlor. At last the desperate young lady broke out:

"George, why don't you propose?" "Somehow, somehow, I can't bring myself to do it, Myrtle," blurted the young man.

"It's only a short sentence, George."

"It's a sentence for life."

PROMINENT MERCHANT
FOUND LASTING RELIEF

In a South Carolina county seat a prominent merchant suffered for years with eczema. More was not a consideration if he could only be relieved from the terrible itching, burning, and irritation. He scratched his back at nights until it bled, but the soreness only became worse. He visited Western Springs, and consulted various physicians, but never found a permanent cure until a friend brought Zemerine to his notice. He tried this great treatment, and now sings its praises highly. Zemerine is a wonderful treatment for diseased skin, especially eczema, tetter, rash, itch, and similar disorders. It is sold upon the fairest basis imaginable—your money will be returned if it does not help you after a fair trial. If you can't get Zemerine at your druggist send $1 or 50 cents to the Zemerine Chemical Company, Orangeburg, S. C., and a jar will be sent you direct. Adv.-tf

DECREASE IN OUTPUT OF GOLD IN SOUTH DAKOTA 1919

Preliminary estimates, made by Charles W. Henderson of the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, indicate that gold mines in South Dakota produced $5,391,000 in 1919 as compared with $6,565,337 in 1918 and 144,000 ounces of silver as compared with 159,202 ounces in 1918. The ores shipped to smelters contained only nominal quantities of lead and copper.

At the end of 1918 the Homestake mines and mills were operated at only 77 per cent capacity. Shortage of labor continued during the year 1919, but production began to increase in April. Production continued steadily until September 25, when a fire was discovered on the 800-foot level. Later this fire reached the 700-foot level, and it was found necessary to flood the mine to the 600-foot level.

While the mine was flooded—during October and November—the operations at the mines and mill were necessarily curtailed, but they were resumed December 1. The Mogul mill was closed during the later part of the year, and the Trojan mill was the only large operators in 1919.

What It Takes To Make Real Cakes

It's not so awful 'tickular,
The kind of' cakes I eat;
With Dunbar's Syrup let them come—
Of buckwheat, corn or wheat!

—DOLLY DUNBAR

No mistaking the answer. Plenty of DUNBAR'S KING KOMUS SYRUP on top and "tricklin'" down the sides. It's the real part of cakes, waffles, hot biscuits—this rich, mellow syrup with the delightful fresh cane flavor.

Its goodness begins with soil and climate where Nature grows the finest Ribbon cane. Boiled to that right degree so that you get its full delicious sweetness.

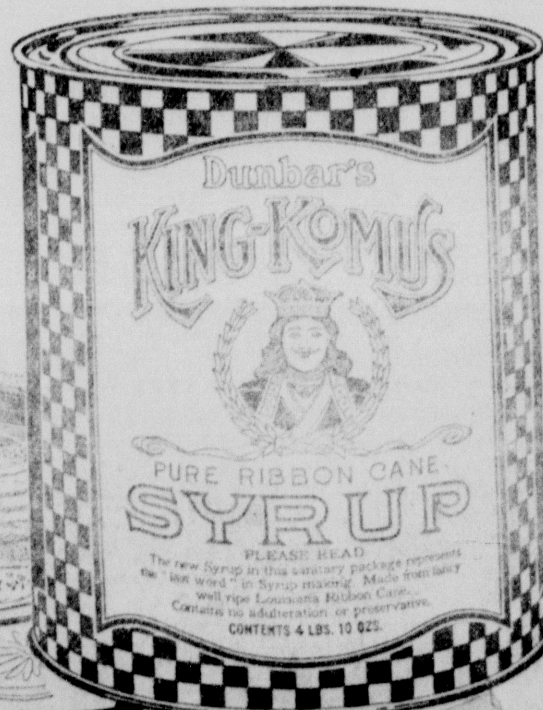

Always have DUNBAR'S KING KOMUS SYRUP on the table. Wholesome—nourishing—an economical strength-building food. Made by a process that demands, above all, purity and cleanliness.

Dunbar's King Komus Syrup

Dunbar's Syrups are packed under several colored checkered labels. All are guaranteed highest quality.

After January first the white and blue KING KOMUS label will be changed to checkered label as shown below.

JEFFERSON B. WHITE, Local Mgr.

Beginning with this issue of the Herald Jefferson B. White, formerly city editor of the San Antonio Daily Express and a newspaper man of wide experience, assumes the local management of this paper and becomes interested in the Terrell Publishing Company. Mr. White will make Cameron his home and intends devoting his entire time and attention to the publication of a newspaper in keeping with the rapidly developing town and country.

The Terrell Publishing Company is to be congratulated upon its having secured the services of so able a man as Mr. White, the success he has attained in the daily newspaper field and his experience in the work at towns other than San Antonio having fitted him especially to give Cameron and Milam county a good, constructive paper.

Mr. White will move his family to Cameron within a short time and will become a permanent citizen of Milam county.

The management would ask patrons of the Herald to co-operate with Mr. White in his work, assuring them that it will be appreciated in the highest sense.

Respectfully,
THE TERRELL PUBLISHING CO.

PUT DOWN THE REDS

Much of the social and industrial unrest over America today is due to the lack of proper restrictions upon immigration. Daily there is being poured out at the great seaboards of America a flood of human beings, who, by the very nature of the Old World standards of civilization, religion and politics, have no conception of what America is like. These people, coming as they are by thousands, bring their traditions and their ideals to set up living in free and liberal America.

The radical elements in America are not by any means wholly the products of free America. They come from the hot beds of anarchy and lands of oppression where proud, imperious monarchs crush out the freedom that is the right of every man. Thus ground down in unwilling servitude they are usually adverse to anything that smacks of government and take their advent into America as a mortal cue to revolt. Events of the past three years show that their ideals are constantly clashing with the ideals for which America stands.

It has been a long time since there was any considerable agitation over the once talked of literacy test. It is not America to deny citizenship to any who come to our shores but it has become increasingly necessary to apply some methods by which these peoples may be standardized to the ideals of this government. Americanization holds within its possibilities much that will eradicate bolshevism and radicalism in this country. Immigrants must know that America will not for a minute stand for this sort of agitation; that whoever adopts this as their native land must conform to the ideals for which we stand as a nation.

The alarming increase in radicalism over America has caused the Attorney General to make a special appeal to Congress for speed in the passage of certain legislation now pending which will enable the Department of Justice to deal with these elements, that are not only disturbing the industrial and economic life of America but threatening the foundations of the government and our institutions.

Union Labor has felt the teeth of the radical to its sorrow. The radical, more than any one element, has caused the difficulties in which labor has become involved during the recent strikes and industrial war, and now efforts are being made to rid the ranks of labor of these undesirables. They are not wanted anywhere.

The late world war was fought out on the lines of freedom and the victory of Democracy was meant to include and must ever mean to include the Red who would destroy even the functions of free and liberal government. What was necessary to enforce respect for American institutions during the war still remains a paramount duty which every loyal citizen owes to himself and country. Everything that is America must survive the wreck of war for to fail would mean world disaster.

What is the population of the city of Cameron? This is a question about which is correlated a good deal of popular interest at this time as the process of enumeration swings into form. Like all other cities of the state having the many advantages which attract peoples, the growth and development of Cameron has been rapid if not phenomenal since the last census was taken in 1910.

Many estimates are being made by citizens and business men of Cameron who have resided here for many years and are in close touch with the trend of affairs. A number of estimates place the population at 7000, while more conservative figures place the population at 6000. Confidence is expressed on every hand that when the enumeration is complete the population will be near if not above the conservative estimate of 6000. In the meantime Cameron people are waiting with anxiety the result which will be closed by the enumeration. Considerable progress has been made by the corps of enumerators who have for several days been assiduously attacking the problem.

One of the principal causes for the growth and development of Cameron during the past few years is the splendid school advantages offered. Hundreds of people who have heretofore resided in the rural districts are now comfortably located in the city of Cameron where their families can take advantage of the schools. The citizenship of Cameron is substantial and is becoming increasingly so with the settlement here of hundreds of people from the rural districts. The population of Cameron is not without its quota of people who came from the larger cities, finding in this center many desirable advantages and opportunities which are not afforded by residence in the cities.

The many natural resources of Cameron and surrounding territory within easy radius of the county seat is responsible for the big increase as much as any other one source. Located in the center of Texas Milam County offers agricultural advantages not to be had in any other county in the state. There is a noticeable atmosphere of prosperity in Cameron and Milam county not true of many other sections, especially in the south and southwest where the recent gulf coast storm swept away the crops of the farmers. Bad weather conditions prevented the harvesting of much of the production in Milam county, the yield was larger than in most sections and the loss is less harmful. Feed crops are better than for many years and the farmers have resources on which to begin the new year.

All of these benefits have to do with the big increase of the population of Cameron and Milam county and the general content on the process of enumeration shows a decided interest in the results.

When the 1920 census reports are announced it is likely that the figures will prove disappointing to more than one town booster and cause some to revise their literature. However, the enumerators will disclose a most wonderful growth in every city and hamlet in Texas, this town not excepted.

Germany's mark of appreciation has degenerated into a mark of depreciation the world over, while the English pound has seemed to have lost some of its value.

The Mexican situation reminds one of a rain barrel full of wiggletails; the troublesome elements coming to the surface mostly when nobody is looking on.

The statement that railway earnings for November were the lowest in years suggests the thought that the pay was entirely in keeping with the service rendered.

While it may be said that the human body is like a great motor there seems to be a difference when it comes to operating it on wood alcohol.

"Reds" first became unpopular with the banker in this country, but the entire Nation is now after the radical's scalp.

Mexico's delaration that "Texas is wicked" recalls the Bible story about who shall cast the first stone.

LITTLE AND MUCH

It matters little where I was born,
If my parents were rich or poor;
Whether they shrank from the world's cold scorn,
Or walked in the pride of wealth secure.
But whether I live an honest man,
And hold by integrity firm in my clutch,
I tell you, my brother, plain as I am,
It matters much.

It matters little how long I stay
In a world of sorrow, sin and care;
Whether in youth I am called away,
Or live till my bones and head are bare.
But whether I do the best that I can
To soften the weight of adversity's touch
On the faded cheek of my fellow man,
It matters much.

WHY PAY YOUR POLL TAX?

BECAUSE, if you do, you can vote in the next primary for Presidential Electors, all other State officials, and all county officials. The primary is the nomination and more important than the election proper.

BECAUSE, our opponents state that they have determined to see that a legislature is elected that will repeal the primary suffrage law. Your poll tax receipt will enable you to help safeguard this law.

BECAUSE, thirty-six States will most probably ratify the Federal Suffrage Amendment before election time, and you will then be able to vote in the election proper, as well as on all other matters which are decided by popular choice, if your poll tax is paid.

BECAUSE, our opponents have openly asserted that they will see to it that a legislature is elected that will rescind ratification of the Federal Suffrage Amendment. Your poll tax will enable you to prevent this.

BECAUSE, our opponents are saying that women are not paying poll taxes because they do not want the ballot. Ferguson's Forum asserts in bold faced type that the women of Texas do not want the ballot. Your poll tax receipt disproves these assertions.

BECAUSE, no reform is safe simply because a law has once been passed establishing it. We must be always prepared to put good men into office and keep bad ones out. Without your poll tax receipt you have no voice in any election.

BECAUSE, $1.00 of your poll tax money goes to support the schools. The best teachers are leaving the schools because of poor pay. Your poll tax money will help to keep good teachers in the schools.

BECAUSE, every conscientious, forward-looking woman wants to bear her share of the responsibilities for the kind of government we live under, the kind of men who are put into office, the kind of social and industrial conditions that exist in her state, county and city, the kind of schools the children are educated in.

DODSON WOULD STOP SALE OF CALOMEL

Says Calomel is Mercury and Acts Like Dynamite on Your Liver.

Dodson is making a hard fight against calomel in the South. Every druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason, Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place. "Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist. A large bottle costs but a few cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.

OAKDALE NEWS

Our young people continue to get married. On Christmas day Miss Annie O'Neal and Roy L. Hawbaker of Weatherford, were quietly married after dinner. They had just a few friends to witness the occasion. Mr. O'Neal had intended to have rather a big affair of it, but the weather was so bad that they thought they might have to go to a preacher, but they succeeded in getting Brother Hart out there and a cousin, who lived very close. I understand Mr. Hawbaker will go back to his work in Weatherford and she will finish her school at Prospect.

We had another marriage on Monday evening before. Mr. Thomas Batey and Miss Day has been going to school at Cameron for several years so we have more than one bride and groom with us. There has been four or five couples to be married in our part of the community this fall.

Miss Johnnie Hensley gave up her school at Hoyte and went to Houston before the Christmas holidays. She perhaps will work in Houston, where her mother and two sisters are.

Berry Barnes came home week before last from out West where he had been picking cotton. They have rented land from Lee Bate and will move by the first.

Mrs. J. B. Ashenbeck, son and grandson, Fred, spent the day Sunday at Hoyte with the Nicholson family. They tell me they had an excellent dinner.

Miss Alice Wimberley and Hugh, both, have gone back to their work after spending Xmas with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Wimberley.

Miss Alda Batey is home from her school at Meeks. She was to have two weeks vacation.

Mrs. Garner had as guests Xmas her daughter and family, Mrs. John Hairston of Milano.

John Hause and family of Cameron, came out Sunday evening to see his father, Sid.

Eugen Hause and family went Sunday morning to Mrs. Hause's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Springer at Gause.

Mr. Fred Ashenbeck returned home after spending a week with his relatives here, and Mr. Arnold Ashenbeck came in Friday night to see home folks. There was a part of the family that went to Rosebud to visit the Beckhusen family.

Mr. Marshal Garner went to Milano Monday.

Mr. Crawford and family went to Marlow to visit home folks Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Clydt Hensley have a sick baby at present. Mr. Lee Batey went to Cameron this morning on business.

Our community would be busy loading cord wood if they could get empty cars put here for them, but it looks like there are no cars they can have.

666 quickly relieves Colds and LaGrippe, Constipation, Biliousness, Loss of Appetite and Headaches.

Four Story School Building Used Entirely for Americanization and Vocational Studies.

The enrollment of the Ford Motor company's Americanization and Vocational School in Detroit has passed the 3,000 mark. There are four courses available to Ford men; the English Course, Trade School, Service Course and Toolmakers School. A four-story 30 room building is occupied almost entirely by the educational activities of the Ford Motor company, which teaches English to its Foreign-born employees, which teaches its service men the proper method of repairing the Ford Car, that makes toolmakers out of the workmen who show their desire to advance and takes boys under sixteen whose parents can no longer send them to school and gives them a combination of general schooling and toolmaking or other trade for which the boy shows a liking. This latter part of the school is known as the Henry Ford Trade School and is regularly incorporated under the Michigan laws as a private school.

On entering this school the boys are granted an annual scholarship of four hundred dollars which is paid them in bi-monthly installments and helps to support them while learning a trade. Provision is also made for increasing this scholarship as the boys progress and attain higher marks in class room work and shop practice.

Besides the four general courses are a number of special courses, for foremen, for men whose work requires their having a knowledge of metals and a teachers training school. All of the teachers in the Ford school are Ford men—men who because of some especial fitness or because of their ability coupled with an understanding of the "Help the Other Fellow" spirit have been called to the work of teaching other Ford men. In all there are seventy-five teachers in the Ford school which is more than the ordinary high school employs.

It must not be inferred that those men who are learning trades do all of their learning in the school. They do not. Periodically so many times a week they attend the classes to learn the theory but the experience they gain from actual work in the factory. Practice and theory proceed together and all of the time the students, be they men or boys, are working on actual parts for Ford Machinery or the Ford Car, and they are being paid the regular wage.

Adjoining the school yard is the Ford athletic field where there are sixteen tennis courts, baseball fields, a skating pond, football grounds, together with considerable gymnasium apparatus.

The Ford system of Americanization has many times received the commendation of prominent educators for its practicability and effective results.

Just give me the napkin you used when you at your meals.

Kill Him.

"Where are you going?" asked the returned hero's mother, as he strode toward the door, a vicious look on his face.

"To find the man who sent me this letter suggesting that I take a course in physical culture," was the savage response as the door slammed.

Same Initial Anyway.

The captain was inspecting a bunch of uniforms which he had ordered marked with the owners' names. Finally he found one upon which none was visible.

"What's the matter here?" he demanded. "Your name seems to be obliterated."

"No, sir," replied the private brightly, "its O'Brien."

Colonel R. G. Cholmeley-Jones, director of the War Risk Insurance Bureau, upon a recent visit to wounded Yanks recuperating in the Walter Reed Hospital at Washington, poked fun at himself and his department in a way that elicited a good laugh from the Bureau's clients present.

"Not long ago," said the Colonel, "upon arriving at my desk one morning, I found in my mail a letter addressed to 'The Bonehead Department, Washington, D. C.' More amused than affronted that the postal authorities should have selected my bureau as the proper addressee in this case, I tore open the envelope. Somewhat, I confess, to my astonishment, the letter within read: 'I have made a bet that this letter will reach the proper department of the Government unopened, the War Risk Insurance Bureau.'"

Honors of War.

An artillery outfit was moving from its training camp to take up a position nearer the front. The brand new lieutenant, who had been given charge of the horses, was experiencing much worryment, especially as the colonel had very strongly emphasized the importance of giving the animals every care.

On the trip, which was long and racking in the "hommes et chevaux," one of the horses died, despite the efforts of the veterinarian.

Arriving at its destination the young lieutenant promptly reported to the C. O.

"Sir," he said somewhat nervously, "one of the horses died."

"Well, what did you do with him?"

"Sir, I brought him along on a flat car."

"What!" bellowed the colonel. "You brought a dead horse a thousand kilometers across France to the battle front? Going to give him a military funeral, I presume?"

Suspicious.

Going over on the Aquitania rather more than a year ago was a negro engineer regiment. Also on board were several thousand white troops of the Eighty-fourth Division and a number of unassigned officers.

In the assignment of stations for boat drill most of the casual officers got rafts up on the boat deck. Just next to them were the colored boys who had drawn life boats.

At the first drill every man was told just where he was to go whenever the alarm sounded. The next day at drill a big black engineer was found standing by one of the rafts even before any of the officers reached it. He was ordered to go to his own place at the next boat. He moved over to the raft and looked it over very carefully.

At the next drill he was again found standing by the officers' raft, and the lieutenant in charge proceeded to call him down for having gone again to the wrong place. When he had finished the soldier looked at the boat, at the colored enlisted men standing by it, then at the raft and its attending officers, and finally exploded:

"Say, boss, what's de matter wid dat old boat, anyhow?"

The Right Dope

The Army Slum architect has been the victim of many a caustic word, but the following advertisement, taken from a Western paper is the most unkind cut of all:

"Wanted—Five blacksmiths and three plumbers. Ex-Army cooks especially wanted."

The Sovereign Remedy

At a trading camp in Georgia, a recruit of two weeks' experience was on his first trick of guard. His part was a water tank. His orders were to call the corporal of the guard if the tank should overflow.

All was quiet until one a. m. when the camp was aroused by a shrill call: "Corporal of the guard—Number Six—bring a cork."

Legal Protection Needed.

The lawyer was just out of O. D. after his return from France when he was met upon the street by a former colored client.

"Lawdy, boss," the latter ejaculated. "Ah shore am glad to see yo' back. Suttin'ly did miss yo' when yo' was gone at de war. Las' winter Ah done miss yo' powerful bad. Done brought me a stove fo' ten dollars, and long comes ole constabule an' makes me pay fo' it."

What's in A Number

The Aero Squadron, preparatory to the start for the front, was being initiated again into the mysteries of close order drill. While most of the men knew every nut, bolt and square inch of canvas on the planes, they were more than hazy about the forgotten detail of their apprenticeship days in the Army.

"Squads right!" bellowed the C. O. Themajority of the squadron managed to get there somehow or other, but No. 3, rear rank, fourth squad, was totally lost. He maneuvered aimlessly about the field for a time, trying to find his place, and finally walked into the arms of the captain.

"Here, you! Where do you belong? What's your number?"
The buck snapped out of his trance. "No. 284526, sir," he answered.

WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW

Prepared For The Herald By The First National Bank in St. Louis, Mo.

The value of crops grown in the United States in 1919 was nearly three times more than the average annual value in the fifty years preceding the war, Secretary of Agriculture Houston announces. On the basis of prices that have recently prevailed, he says, the total value of this year's crop of all kinds is estimated at $15,873,000,000, compared with $14,222,000,000 in 1918, and $13,479,000,000 in 1917. The average annual value of crops in the period from 1910 to 1914 was $5,829,000,000.

These values, Secretary Houston explains, represent gross production and not net gains to the producers. The value of livestock on the farms in 1919 was $8,830,000,000, which was $546,000,000 greater than for 1918, $1,094,000,000 greater than for 1917 and $3, 512,000,000 above that for 1914.

Forecasts on meat production in the United States for 1919, the Secretary says, indicate that the record figure of last year—20,250,000,000 pounds—will be exceeded. This year's total is expected to be 21,000,000,000 pounds, of which pork will represent 12,900,000 pounds.

If it's in The Herald, it is news.

TANGLEWOOD MAN DIES

John Stence of Tanglewood died in Cameron early Wednesday morning following an operation which had confined him in a local hospital for several weeks. Mr. Stence was 20 years old and was born and reared in the Tanglewood section.

Mr. Stence was brought to Cameron about two months ago where he was placed under the care of physicians. The original operation was for appendicitis. The body was taken in charge of Billie Marak, embalmer, Wednesday and prepared for shipment to the home of Tanglewood. The funeral was held there Thursday.

MRS. JESSIE SMITH DIES

Mrs. Jessie Smith, wife of C. C. Smith of Cameron, died at Carlsbad, Texas, Sunday morning following an illness of several months. Word of the death of Mrs. Smith was received in Cameron Sunday. She had gone to Carlsbad for her health only a few days before her death.

The body was received here Monday morning and taken to the home where funeral services were held. Interment was made in the Oakhill cemetery Monday afternoon, Rev. H. R. MacFadyen, pastor of the Presbyterian church, conducting the services.

Mrs. Smith is survived by her husband, C. C. Smith and four children. Her death is mourned by a host of friends and relatives in Cameron and elsewhere. She was a mother of Christian refinement and splendid traits of character and the sorrow of the husband and children is the sorrow of all Cameron.

BETTER ROADS OUT
OF CITY PLANNED

Commercial Club Live Wires Formulate Plan for Graveling Connecting Roads.

Plans for completing gravel roads in three districts adjacent to precinct 2, of Milam county, the Cameron precinct, were formulated Wednesday afternoon in the office of County Engineer A. F. Mitchell. The meeting was attended by a number of Cameron's live wires, men who have helped to build our city and men who are looking to the future.

When the pike roads in the Cameron precinct were built money was not available to complete every road to the precinct line but were built as far out from the city as funds would permit.

It is a well known fact that as soon as the great war ended the Cameron Commercial Club through its good roads committee decided to branch out into new trade territory—a carefully laid plan was formulated and the outlying territory was divided into road districts, backed by the members of the Commercial Club and a promise to connect these districts with the Cameron pike roads, every district voted favorably for their bond issues.

The meeting Wednesday was to outline a plan whereby funds could be made available for these connecting roads. It will require $25,000 to complete the work and after a careful investigation into the matter it was decided to attempt to vote a supplemental bond issue for this amount. Under the plan the new bond issue will not increase the taxes.

The Commercial Club road committee consisting of Giles L. Avriett, Chairman, Geo. T. Graves, J. D. Dobbins and J. W. Coleman will have charge of the details of the plan, the preparing and circulating the petition, also the presentation of same to the Commissioners Court.

The designated amount, $25,000, to complete the work is an estimate made by County Engineer A. F. Mitchell after careful survey. The roads to be connected up include the Buckholts road, 2 miles; the Yarrclinton road, 1½ miles; the Minerva road 2 2-3 miles.

The completion of these roads will give Cameron a trade territory extending to the county line in every direction and will connect every town of importance in the county with the county site.

The plan for building these connecting roads was hatched out of a meeting of the Commercial Club last Friday night, being proposed by Chairman Giles L. Avriett of the good roads committee. Action taken in the matter was a motion for President Robt. McLane to instruct the finance committee and the good roads committee of the club to confer with a special committee of three to be appointed from the club and work out the details.

Those present at the meeting Wednesday afternoon were as follows: T. S. Henderson, Geo. T. Graves, Giles L. Avriett, R. P. Jeter, F. S. Lesovsky, H. M. Hefley, W. G. Gillis, E. A. Flinn.

Further announcement will be made as the details are worked out.

DR. R. L. HOWELL

Dr. R. L. Howell, with the State Board of Health, who spent six weeks in Cameron during the fall making an indexical Health Survey of Cameron, has returned. Dr. Howell has visited a number of towns over Texas since he was here in the interest of the Anti-Malaria Campaign which will be inaugurated during next spring and summer by the State Board of Health and the U. S. Public Health Service and the International Health Board. Dr. Howell's return visit to Cameron to complete the Indexical Health Survey of the city which was not finished before he was called away for the other work. It will require about 10 days to complete the work under favorable weather conditions. After this work is completed in Cameron another survey will be made in the county at one of the Independent School districts.

As the Cameron Herald goes to press workman at the power plant of the Cameron Light, Water and Power Company had practically put the auxiliary steam engine damaged by the recent explosion, in a position to resume normal service and the management expects to have the plant in operation within a few hours.

C. W. Lawrence, manager of the plant, Monday, received a telegram from Kansas City that the big steel shaft which was taken out of the oil engine and sent to Milwaukee for repairs following the wreck, had passed that point on its return to Cameron. Mr. Lawrence, while deploring the delay in getting the plant into operation again, is nevertheless pleased with the progress made by the Milwaukee shops in making the repairs. "We will be able to resume normal service when the steam engine is sufficiently adjusted to the burdens it must bear in operating the plant," said Mr. Lawrence yesterday. In making the repairs on the engine sufficient time must be given to get it properly adjusted before operating at top speed.

J. F. Guggolz of Seguin, is the new superintendent, having reported to the plant at Cameron a few days ago, highly recommended by Dr. J. R. Scott, consulting engineer for the light plant.

J. M. Forsyth, a Temple machine shop superintendent, is here superintending the erection of the machinery. Both men have worked incessantly to get the big plant in operation.

The plant has two auxiliary steam engines with the main engine an oil operation piece. The ice engine has been used to furnish lights at night and to pump water. The other steam engine will take care of the light plant when it gets into operation, which is expected sometime today.

Miss Jerusha Rogers is at home again after several months stay in Washington.

CITIZENS ANGERED OVER BOLES MURDER

Parents Ask Body Be Returned to Thorndale—U. S. Sends Message To Embassy.

Word was received in Cameron yesterday afternoon from Thorndale that citizens of that city which was the home of Earl Boles, who was murdered by bandits near Tampico, Mexico, Monday had telegraphed an appeal to Senators Culberson and Shepard of Texas in Washington, protesting against the murder and demanding that the government take every step necessary to induce the Mexican government to make reparation for the death and make sure the capture and punishment of the bandits guilty of his death.

Early in the day the parents of Boles, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Boles, of Beaumont in Williamson county, applied to the state department at Washington to have the body returned to Thorndale for interment. On the petition to the government to demand reparation for the death of Boles and his companion, was the names of about sixty citizens of Thorndale where Boles was born and reared.

F. J. Roney of Houston was also killed and his body found near that of Boles in the Tampico oil fields of Mexico at Point Lobos Monday. Relatives of Earl Boles received their first information of his death through the Elks Lodge at San Marcos of which he was a member. Earl Boles was formerly with the Gulf Company at Beaumont and was prominent in

Meeting Friday Night Will Take Up Question of Stock Necessary to Put Cameron and Milam County On Electric Line.

With the view of reaching terms of agreement by which construction may be undertaken on the proposed interurban line which is to serve Cameron and Milam county, C. A. Ryfle of the Central Texas Interurban Company met with the committee appointed from the Cameron Commercial Club in the Auditorium Hotel Thursday morning and outlined the proposition as offered by the company.

Mr. Ryfle left Cameron Thursday afternoon for his headquarters to await the decision of the committee which has the matter in hand for the Commercial Club.

The matter will be brought before the Commercial Club at its regular meeting Friday night at the club headquarters. A full attendance of the Commercial Club is requested as the matter to be decided and as large a representation of the sentiment of Cameron as possible is desired. If the Club decides to accept the proposition, it was stated by Mr. Ryfle yesterday that the engineer to the company would be sent here immediately to begin the survey of the proposed route.

Milam county is asked to take 2000 shares of the stock of the Company which will cost $200,000, it was stated by Mr. Ryfle. The money is not to be solicited after the manner of promotion, projects, but is to be deposited in the banks and held in readiness so that when the contract is let payment can be made. The money will be paid in, if raised, on the basis of $20,000 a mile for ten miles.

The company is considering a vast system of interurban railway service for Central Texas and also has in mind a plan to enter the great oil districts of the state to the north. The line which will serve Cameron is to touch at Buckholts, Rogers, Thorndale, Thrall and Taylor. The great system in Central Texas, Mr. Ryfle says will cost approximately $150,000,000 or more.

Considerable interest is being manifested in the Milam county project and a big attendance at the Commercial Club meeting Friday night is expected.

The committee from the Cameron Commercial Club is composed of 15 of the liveliest business men in the city, men that are town builders and boosters, as follows: Robt. McLane, president Commercial Club, A. H. Baskin, T. F. Hardy, Oxsheer Smith, A. N. Green, F. C. Mondrik, R. P. Jeter, W. H. Triggs, R. L. Batte, J. T. Parma, C. W. Lawrence, W. W. Chambers, T. S. Henderson, E. A. Flinn, W. G. Gillis.

Texas oil affairs in the Spindletop days.

Following the receipt of official advices from Tampico to the State Department at Washington that the Texans had been murdered, the government instructed the American embassy in Mexico City to urge the Mexican government to take every possible step to bring about the adjustment and punishment of the murderers.

The statement of the State Department yesterday regarding the murder of the Texans is as follows:

"A Tampico dispatch to the department of state announced today that F. J. Roney and Earl Boles, Americans, were murdered near Port Lobos, an oil loading station between Tampico and Tuxpam, Mexico, and that their bodies were discovered Jan. 5. The men were employed by the International Petroleum company. It is reported that the men were suspected to have in their possession pay funds for the company.

"The department of state today cabled instructions to the American embassy at Mexico City to immediately urge the Mexican government to issue orders promptly to put into effect every possible measure for the apprehension and punishment of the murderers and the embassy was directed to report specifically to the department at the earliest possible moment the action taken by the Mexican government in the case. Similar instructions were sent to the American consul at Tampico with a view to immediate action by the local authorities.

BOARD OF STEWARDS MEET

The Board of Stewards of the Methodist church of which Dr. I. F. Key is pastor, held their regular meeting Tuesday night at the home of the pastor. Following the business session of the Stewards Rev. Key presented a program of evangelism which is to terminate with the last two Sunday's in March with a revival meeting at the church. This program of evangelism will include a survey of the church and is designated to create interest in the coming revival meeting.

The Board of Stewards, Rev. Key states, are optimistic over the general outlook for the church and are approaching the work of the New Year with confident expectation of great results for the improvement of church life in Cameron.

Following the meeting Mrs. Key rendered some musical selections and Margaret Key, seven year old daughter, sang several selections. Refreshments were served by the pastor and family.

Miss Florence Butts enjoyed a pleasant holiday visit in Temple in the home of her uncle, Mr. Tom Hollingsworth. Miss Kathleen Darnell who is well known in Cameron and a cousin of Miss Butts, was also a visitor in this home from Gainesville.

Bucharest, Roumania, Jan. 8.—Two Texans have been decorated by King Ferdinand for their work as members of the American Red Cross Commission in Roumania. They are Major George Bird of Dallas, who has been made an Officer of the Crown, and Lieut. Albert Knox, of Takota, who becomes Chevalier of the Crown.

Major Burt has served as chief of administration of the affairs of the commission since the armistice. Lieut. Knox, who is 20 years old, has the distinction of being the youngest Red Cross officer in Europe. He was a soldier in the American Expeditionary forces serving throughout the St. Mihiel, Argonne and Verdun offensives. In the first drive in the Toul sector, the lieutenant was cited for bravery. At the close of the war he joined the Balkan Commission of the American Red Cross.

Had it ever occurred to you that you had as well try to be a successful physician without attending a medical school, or a successful lawyer without attending a law school, or a successful minister without attending a theological school, as to try to be a successful banker, or merchant, or business man of any kind without first being trained for business in the Tyler Commercial College. You would attend a university with a reputation if you wanted to make a first class doctor, lawyer or minister. Why not use the same good judgment in selecting a business school in which to secure your training? The Tyler Commercial College of Tyler, Texas, is the business university of the South; it enrolls more students annually than any other similar school in America. Its students have come from 39 different states and seven foreign countries; its graduates are holding the very best of positions in the leading lines of the United States.

If you will spend from $150.00 to $250.00 for tuition, board and books for a course of Shorthand, Bookkeeping, Telegraphy, Cotton Classing, or Business Finance, or better still, spend $200.00 to $300.00 and complete any two of these courses, you will have made the best investment of your life. What young man or woman with grit and determination cannot raise this amount? Hundreds of students who borrowed every cent of the money to attend this school, or gave their note for part of their tuition will readily tell you it was the best venture of their lives; they were soon able, through the good positions secured them by the college, to pay what they owed and continue to hold their good positions or go into business for themselves and succeed. If you always remain where you are, you will always be what you are. Think this statement over seriously. More than 300 new students, before this month closes, will be added to the fifteen hundred that are now here. Why not you be among the number? You can enter any day and take up the work. PINK BUNGALOW

By IZOLA FORRESTER.

It was pink, a rampant rose pink that smote the eyes the instant the shore train rounded the cove, and its veranda was a clambering mass of rose clusters from rock foundation to roof.

Mrs. Demorest took one look at it and leaned back in her car horrified.

"I can't imagine why you even thought I could live next door to that horror all summer," she told Dudley. "It will fairly smoke on hot days with such coloring. Who lives there?"

"Oh, mother dear, who cares who lives there," teased the major. "After all I've been through a pink bungalow won't ruffle my happiness. You've been living too easily over here. Turn your back on it if you don't like it."

Which she certainly proceeded to do; not only her back, but Venetian blinds were ordered immediately for that side of the Demorest veranda, and Japanese shades for the sleeping porch and bedroom windows, that no glare of the offending pink should hit her eyes.

The major was strictly neutral. He lounged about the grounds, chatting with the gardener and chauffeur, or strolled the two blocks down to the wide strip of beach every morning before breakfast. And here he did have a startling experience which failed to reach the ears of Mrs. Demorest. It must have been about 6:30.

Just as he came down his steps he caught a flash of rose pink running along the sidewalk from the beach, looking for all the world like a large runaway rose. It turned into the garden next door, ran up the steps and vanished.

"God bless us," murmured the major thoughtfully. "What was that, Judd?" The gardener shook his head.

"Deed, sir, I couldn't say. It's de young lady next door. She takes her dip early. She lives with her grandma, very dignified old lady, sir. Understand she got back from war lately, too; used to drive her own motor car full of sick folks."

This was establishing a fraternal basis for opening up overtures. The major waited his chance, and called, not on the rose girl, but on her grandmother. Mme. Sigourney welcomed him charmingly. They had come to America after the invasion of northern France, and one granddaughter had married here. Diane, the younger, had kept on her work at the front until the close of the war. Now they were resting at Spring Beach until the return home.

The major told his mother nothing of his visit.

Mrs. Demorest was too much engrossed in her own activities to notice what was developing beyond the Venetian blinds. After much argument the little close corporation at Spring Beach which comprised local "society" had decided to give a Versailles fete under Mrs. Demorest's guidance.

"We have everything but celebrities, dear," she told the major. "Can't you find me some heroes?"

"They'd run ten miles from being on a parade like that, Mumsie," he laughed. "I wouldn't be responsible." "But Mr. Everitt will be there, and he was on so many committees over there, and so very important, Jack, that we must have him meet some one of importance. We're going to have the dear countess—oh, I forget her name. Mrs. Vaughan knows her well. She will be guest of honor after Mr. Everitt, or should she come first?"

The major rose restlessly at a flash of pink in the garden and excused himself.

"Have it your own way, Mumsie," he told her, hurrying out to find Diane. Later on he did suggest that they include their neighbors on the receiving committee for the fete, but Mrs. Demorest refused.

"Pink bungalow, that tells it all, Jack."

The day of the fete the major declined to attend. He was extremely "busy," it appeared, and no coaxing would make him stir.

"I'm sure it's that girl in pink," Mrs. Demorest thought anxiously as she turned her head to watch him out of sight. "Men are impossible."

At half past three Diane came down the steps next door, lovely as a rose in her new gown, with a rose pink parasol tilted over her. The major joined her at once and discovered that she was bound for the fete over at the Vaughans' grounds. Also, "la bonne grandmere" was likewise going, and he wondered why her brown eyes shone with mischief as she told him by all means he could accompany them.

As they entered the beautiful entrance gates at Lynwood, he saw Everitt hurrying toward them. The whole receiving line of ladies seemed to wait their cue. And Diane laughed with eager outstretched hands.

"Oh, but it is so good to see you again, Monsieur Everitt!"

The major's heels clicked attention and his chin was up as he realized the joke was on him. The Countess de Sigourney was being welcomed by Spring Beach's best, and his rose girl was swept away from him. As the truth dawned on Mrs. Demorest, she came to him anxiously and laid her hand on his arm.

"I'm so very sorry, Jack. Of course I couldn't be expected to know, could I? And a pink bungalow is rather disturbing. Have I hurt your chances?" He laughed, his eyes softening as they followed Diane.

"No, Mumsie. Madame gave her consent to our marriage last night."

OKLAHOMA Mules

THEY are from 3 to 5 years. Also a few of them to about 8 years old. I will sell them at a very small margin. And they will be sold under a strict guarantee to be as I represent them. If not, I will refund the money. I have been told by a few farmers that my guarantee is no good. I have been in Rosebud for about 9 or 10 years. There are three banks there. You may call any bank in that city you wish, to find out if my guarantee is good or not; because I sell mules from $50 to $75 cheaper than any one else in town, or any other place. Will sell on credit as well as for cash, for the same price, good bankable notes. Come and see me at once, and buy your bargains.

Saturday night Miss Mary Lake Henderson entertained for the girls who were at home for the holidays. The evening was spent in simple contests and in spinning yarns. The feature of the evening was a leap year proposal contest in which the girls made use of their newly acquired prerogative of seeking proper soul mates. The eligible, but seemingly bashful bachelors of the city were portioned out to the guests, who made eager and clever work of bringing up—in prose or in verse—the main issue of the year. The proposals were read aloud, approved and auctioned off to the highest bidders for future use. During the evening Mrs. Henderson and Misses Olive and Agnes Henderson served hot tea, and fruit cake. The guests for the evening were: Misses Estelle Coleman, Clara Curtis, Grace Gillon, Mary Burns, Aetna Smith, Sallie Kate McLane, Rose Rischar, Lil and Beth Jeter, Alice and Olive McGehee, Sue and Dora Shaw, Winnie, Kathrine and Ruth Henderson, and Mesdames S. M. Burns, Jr., W. O. Tygges, Lloyd Mitchell and Vernon McIntyre.

COLLEGE GIRLS AND BOYS

School work in our various Universities and Colleges began this week, and the holiday fun is over for the college crowd. Ben Baskin left the day after Xmas for A. and M. in order to make up time lost from school while he was in the hospital this fall with a leg broken in a football game. Our other A. and M. boys: Vernon Roberts, Fontaine Flinn, Clifton Rogers, George Clement, L. J. Epperson, Cecil Barmore, Powell Tyson, and Charlie Nabors left Sunday for College Station. Misses Harriett Henderson, Owen Bacon, and Ruth Blunt returned to Baylor College Monday afternoon.

The Southwestern crowd was among the first to leave for school after the holidays. Cameron is well represented in Southwestern by the following young folks who returned to school Friday: Misses Irene Cheeves, Anna Lou Baskin, Maurine House and Messrs. Claude Triggs, Jack and Walter Adams and Nat Wafford.

Misses Katie McCall, Emma Atkinson, Agnes Dusek, and Messrs. Elliott Atkinson, Knox Tyson, Pric Cross, George Hefley, Hilton Howell and Moulton Cobb, all of whom were at home for the holidays, have returned to Texas State University.

Misses Gladys Watson, Louise Gillon, and Reba Cheeves left Saturday for Southern Methodist University in Dallas.

The Baylor University crowd which includes, Misses Louise Green, Ruth Coleman, Mabel Jeter, Sue Harlan, Nadeen Bragg, and Messrs. Jim and Mike Coleman, returned to school in full force Sunday afternoon. Miss Mary McLane left with the crowd Sunday, and will enter Baylor University this term. Bob Pool, another of our Cameron boys, is a student in the University and is also assistant in the English department of Baylor. Bob was home for a couple of days during the holidays.

Miss Lois Epperson left Saturday for Denton where she will continue work in the College of Industrial Arts, which work was interrupted by her illness last fall. Miss Motie Cass, who is private secretary to the president of C. I. A., returned to her work Sunday. Miss Annie Lee Peeples, who spent last term in Baylor College, is attending C. I. A. this term.

Jack Vest, Drayton McLane, and Hal Lyons, who are attending Castle Heights in Lebanon, Tenn., left Wednesday to resume their school work. Delbert Childress who is attending Dental School in Dallas has returned to his studies after spending Xmas with home folks.

Edward Shaw and Mitsu Hoskino,

who were in Cameron during the holidays, have returned to their work in the Medical Department of Texas State University at Galveston.

COMPLIMENT DINNER.

Mrs. W. A. Bonds entertained in honor of her cousin, Miss Ruby Caton, with a four-course dinner Friday night. The centerpiece for the table was a bowl of gorgeous red carnations, and from the chandelier to the table red tulle fell in graceful lines. Small bouquets of begonia leaves with red blossoms made dainty plate favors for the eight charming young ladies: Misses Ruby Caton, Sallie Coleman, Olive Henderson, Pauline Green, Alice Lucille Garrison, Nona Hubert, Martha Lou Hooks, and Mary Frances Green. After dinner the following young gentlemen called: Messrs. Glynn Flinn, Jack Hearrell, Billie Clark, Eugene Green, Phillip Reid, Richard Vest, and Bassett Watson.

NEW YEAR PARTY

Mrs. C. N. Green began the new year by entertaining with a one o'clock dinner January first for the friends of her daughter, Mary Frances. The dinner, which was elaborate and delicious, was followed by an afternoon of music and fun, and ended at night with a picture show party at Wonderland Theatre. The guests were Misses Olive Henderson, Frances Hefley, Veldo Walker, Alice Lucille Garrison, Dora Poteet, Martha Lou Hooks, Sallie Coleman, Ruby Caton, and Pauline Green.

Mrs. Dan Tyson gave a picture show party Tuesday, December the thirtieth for her sister, Miss Frances Hefley, and a number of her young friends. The guests met at the Dan Tyson home at 2 o'clock, and chaperoned by Mrs. Tyson and little Miss Jane, went to the Wonderland Theatre, where they saw a good show. After the show they returned to the Tyson home and were served delicious refreshments of salads, and tea. The guests for the afternoon were: Misses Frances Hefley, Dora Poteet, Louise Adams, Martha Lou Hooks, Sallie Coleman, Velda Walker, Inez Tyson, and Agnes Henderson.

FORTY-TWO CLUB

The Forty-two Club began the new year with a joyous gathering at the Tom Denson home last Thursday with Mrs. Roy Baskin as hostess. Mrs. Baskin announced that the object was to lose instead of to win the games, thus making the winners losers, and foot-table, head-table. This caused a jolly mix-up and made everything delightfully informal and merry. In spite of all she could do to prevent it, one lady actually made her bid of 168. At the conclusion of the games, Mrs. Vernon McIntyre, who was the most successful loser, was awarded with a bouquet of crimson carnations. To Miss Clara Thomas, who was so unlucky as to win the most of the games, was given a monkey on a string. Delightful two-course refreshments of salads, sandwiches, olives, tea and marshmallow pudding and fruit cake were served. The guests for the afternoon included: Mesdames Jno. Watson, B. J. Baskin, H. F. Smith, Jr., W. A. Gillon, Geo. Tiffany Moore, John B. Poteet, Howard Baskin, Wilard Chambers, John Mangum, S. M. Burns, Jr., B. P. Atkinson, Albert Triggs, R. D. Brown, and Misses Clara Thomas, Aetna Smith, Edna Sprinkel, Sallie Kate McLane, Katherine and Mary Lake Henderson.

It has been the custom of Mr. R. L. Batte, Sr., to meet his oil mill, gin and farm superintendents and managers once yearly if possible for a dinner and get-together meeting. On New Year's night those of his men who reside in Cameron, numbering about 26, were invited to his home by Mrs. Batte for a dinner.

The beginning of the new year was a most auspicious time for such a meeting. The guests arrived at eight o'clock and were at once ushered into the large living room, cheerful with a bright fire, bunches of holly and pink carnations. After a few minutes they were invited to a most delicious supper served by negro waiters amid a setting of Xmas greens. The flowers adorning the table were deep red carnations and beautiful cut glass and silver added to its charm. But best of all was the lovely supper placed in plenty on the long table beginning with the turkey and accompanying delicacies and ending with pink and white brick cream with cakes of all kinds. Spirited conversation and a general good time made time pass quickly. When the guests had enjoyed this sumptuous repast, they once more gathered in the living room where cigars were passed. Beautiful victrola selections were played and every man thoroughly enjoyed himself.

Major R. Lyles and family have moved to Bay City. The Major is one of our oldest and best known citizens, and we shall miss him, and his family from our midst. Our good wishes go with the Lyles to their new home.

You Do More Work,

You are more ambitious and you get more enjoyment out of everything when your blood is in good condition. Impurities in the blood have a very depressing effect on the system, causing weakness, laziness, nervousness and sickness.

GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC restores Energy and Vitality by Purifying and Enriching the Blood. When you feel its strengthening, invigorating effect, see how it brings color to the cheeks and how it improves the appetite, you will then appreciate its true tonic value.

GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC is not a patent medicine, it is simply IRON and QUININE suspended in Syrup. So pleasant even children like it. The blood needs Quinine to Purify it and IRON to Enrich it. These reliable tonic properties never fail to drive out impurities in the blood.

The Strength-Creating Power of GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC has made it the favorite tonic in thousands of homes. More than thirty-five years ago, folks would ride a long distance to get GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC when a member of their family had Malaria or needed a body-building, strength-giving tonic. The formula is just the same today, and you can get it from any drug store. 60c per bottle.
